No-Shooting Orders Issued By Egyptian, Israel Governments

Eden To Present Mideast Peace Plan To Soviets

LONDON, April 19 (AP) — Prime Minister Eden has a new Western idea to put to Russia for avoiding war in the Middle East. Under it the United Nations would ration both Communist and Western arms to Arabs and Israelis.

Diplomatic informants said tonight Eden intends to present the proposal to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and party boss Nikita Khrushchev during their London discussions of the Middle East crisis. They take up this subject tomorrow.

Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd hinted at the proposal in the House of Commons yesterday.

"On the supply, I have agreed that it must be our purpose to try to preserve a balance," Lloyd told a questioner.

"We have to continue our efforts to get an agreed solution, working through the United Nations."

Hammarskjold Says New, Unconditional Cease-Fire In Effect

JERUSALEM, April 19 (AP)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold of the United Nations announced today Egypt and Israel had put into effect a new and unconditional cease-fire on their strife-torn border.

It was his first big accomplishment on a two-week-old Middle East peace mission for the Security Council. He said both governments told him they had ordered their forces not to shoot across or pass over the armistice demarcation line after 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Both sides agreed to the cease-fire more than a week ago but had reserved the right to fire in self-defense. They also had delayed giving Hammarskjold confirmation that the necessary orders had gone out to their forces.

Conferences Held

Hammarskjold held two private meetings with Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion today on how to maintain the cease-fire. This made six such conferences between the two since Tuesday. Other U. N. and Israeli representatives also attended.

Earlier, Ben-Gurion and his Cabinet had a private discussion of the talks between the Premier and secretary general. Hammarskjold had conferred with Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser in Cairo and with Lebanese officials in Beirut before coming here. He will return tomorrow to his Beirut temporary headquarters.

His assignment is to secure compliance with the 1949 armistice agreements of Israel with Egypt, Jordan, Lebanon and Syria and reduce tensions along the demarcation lines fixed by those agreements. He is to report to the Council by May 4.

Egypt Charges Violation

Shortly before the cease-fire announcement, an Egyptian military spokesman in Cairo said an Israeli patrol fired with automatic weapons for 15 minutes this morning on an Egyptian post near Deir el Ballah in Egypt's Gaza Strip.

The strip's frontier was the scene of major clashes two weeks ago. The spokesman said Egypt suffered no casualties today, did not fire back but complained to the Egypt-Israel-U. N. Mixed Armistice Commission that Israel had violated the armistice.

Ike "Gratified" By Agreement On Atom Agency

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) — President Eisenhower was described today as "very much gratified" by Russia's agreement with the United States and 10 other nations on a plan expected to launch his atoms-for-peace agency by mid-1957.

The 12 nations put the finishing touches yesterday to a proposed charter for the International Atomic Energy Agency, as it will be called.

The charter goes next to a conference of 84, possibly 86, nations at New York City in September. If accepted there, as expected, it will go to the parliaments of the nations and will become effective when ratified by 18 countries. American officials expect this around June 1957.

Wadsworth Reports To Ike

James J. Wadsworth, who headed the U.S. delegation to the 12-nation meeting in Washington, reported to Eisenhower this morning. Afterward, he told reporters the President was "very much gratified" at "such substantial progress."

In a separate development today, the Atomic Energy Commission announced it would contribute $350,000 for construction of an atomic research reactor in Brazil. It was described as the first such grant to a foreign nation.

Smooth Conference

The official communique on the new international agency noted that "several delegations participating in this meeting reserved their positions on certain details." Officials said that is what Russia did on its demand that Red China be admitted as a member of the agency and to its governing board.

But these officials said the closed-door conference, which ran from Feb. 27 to March 21 and then recessed until yesterday's final meeting, was quite smooth. They said even Russia's reservation on Red China was expressed without emotion.

Besides the United States and Russia, the 12-nation group included Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Czechoslovakia, France, India, Portugal, South Africa and Britain.

Stevenson Lays Down 'Platform'

PHILADELPHIA, April 19 (AP) — Adlai Stevenson today laid down a "platform" on which he will seek the Democratic presidential nomination with the question of President Eisenhower's ability to serve the nation a "major plank."

Stevenson, who today flew to Philadelphia from Harrisburg, Pennsylvania's capital, to wind up a two-day pre-primary tour of Pennsylvania, told a news conference here that he will speak of the President's health "when it seems most suitable."

Stevenson also made clear "my own position" on the segregation issue.

"The Supreme Court has said what is to be done," he told a meeting of Philadelphia Democratic leaders. "The courts will decide when compliance will be expected."

And, he said, in a stopover at Harrisburg earlier, the compliance should come without violence, without the necessity of "troops and bayonets."

East, West Must Keep Peace, Red Party Boss Says

LONDON, April 19 (AP)—Russia's Nikita S. Khrushchev declared today Communists and capitalists must put aside their dislikes and live in peace to save the world from ruin in a hydrogen bomb war.

The visiting Communist party chief directed his remarks to Prime Minister Eden at a luncheon in the Soviet Embassy. The remarks were left unreported for several hours.

Then, late tonight, Khrushchev's luncheon statement was distributed here by the Soviet news agency Tass. Tass is a Soviet government agency normally used for transmission of propaganda and news to and from the Soviet Union.

At another meeting, Eden, Khrushchev and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin agreed to keep their conference table talks secret and to avoid propaganda.

Eden and other British leaders at the embassy luncheon also heard Khrushchev deny Russia was trying to drive a wedge between Britain and the United States.

Turning to the British guests, the Communist party secretary said:

"You, gentlemen, do not like communism. We know this, and we do not hide the fact that we do not like capitalism, but we must live in peace. Of course, we do not demand any particular love toward us. However, you cannot but recognize the fact that such a great country as the Soviet Union exists.

Soviet H-Bomb Line Modified

"And this country—Russia—wants peace and not war. As the saying goes, one must live not only with the neighbors one chooses, but with the ones God sends."

Eden and other British guests noted that Khrushchev had modified the Soviet line on the hydrogen bomb. Heretofore, the Khrushchev-Bulganin regime has claimed that war with nuclear weapons would destroy only the capitalist countries.

The rotund Khrushchev described such a war as a curse to all mankind.

Khrushchev said war offered no solution, "we live on one planet."

Margaret Truman Meets Hubby-To-Be At Airport

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., April 19 (AP)—Margaret Truman exuded happiness tonight as she and her family welcomed her bridegroom-to-be to the big, white frame home in which she spent her childhood.

E. Clifton Daniel Jr., flew down from New York to meet her aunts, uncles and cousins in advance of the couple's wedding at 4 p.m.—5 p.m. EST—Saturday in tiny Trinity Episcopal church a few blocks away.

The ex-President's daughter was at nearby Kansas City Municipal Airport to meet him when he arrived.

She was so excited she arrived at the airport at least 45 minutes in advance of the landing. Mr. and Mrs. John E. Horton, who arrived yesterday, accompanied her. Mrs. Horton, the former Drucie Snyder, and a friend and confidante of Margaret when she lived in the White House, will be one of her matrons of honor. She is the daughter of John Snyder, who served as secretary of the Treasury when Margaret's father, Truman, was president of the United States.

Romance-loving America speculated much of the time of Truman's tenure whether there might be a White House wedding. Margaret had her beaux, for she liked to dance and go to plays, but her heart was her own until she met the handsome, assistant foreign editor of the New York Times.

Margaret and Drucie waited in a private room at the airport, with a detachment of Independence and Kansas City police on hand to assure privacy, until the other passengers had disembarked from the plane.

Revenue Agents Seek Syndicate Info In 5 Cities

PITTSBURGH, April 19 (AP)—Special Internal Revenue Service agents armed with search warrants today raided far-flung alleged betting establishments which a U. S. attorney said were tied together into a nation-wide gambling syndicate.

U. S. Atty D. Malcolm Anderson said the alleged syndicate had a "layoff" headquarters at nearby New Kensington, Pa., which was moved prior to the swift raids. No warrant had been issued for the alleged headquarters.

18 Persons Arrested

Eighteen persons found at the establishments were arrested on charges of violating the federal wagering law of 1951.

The raids were conducted on the basis of search warrants only. No complaints were sworn out against individuals.

Anderson said the raids were conducted primarily to obtain information on the operation of the alleged syndicate and the persons behind it.

Anderson said agents of the Internal Revenue Service's intelligence division had been working underground since February.

Grand Jury Probe Due

He said the investigation made it "apparent" that the alleged New Kensington headquarters received "layoff" bets from gamblers in other cities who had received more bets on a specific event than they wanted to risk alone. This operation, in gambling parlance, is known as "laying off."

The original bookmaker transfers part of his possible gain or loss to the "layoff" point, which then has the responsibility of paying any winning bets or collecting from the losers.

Anderson said he would seek a grand jury investigation to analyze the material seized in the raids and follow up "any leads suggested by this information."

Monaco Thieves Steal Paintings

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, April 19 (AP)—Thieves struck three times in the weeklong Grace Kelly-Prince Rainier III wedding festivities, making off with loot valued at $150,000.

Monaco's third—and biggest—robbery was announced today. Police said five rare paintings valued at $95,000 were stolen from the apartment of Dr. Serge Mikhaelos, a Russian physician who came to Monaco in 1922.

Over last weekend jewels totaling $55,000 in value were stolen from a wedding guest, Mrs. Matthew McCloskey of Philadelphia, and from one of the bridesmaids, Mrs. Maree Pamp of Philadelphia. These thefts occurred in the Hotel de Paris.

Harried police admitted that, as of today, they had no leads. Almost the entire police force of the tiny principality—and many police borrowed from France—have been tied up guiding traffic or, attired in cutaways, acting as guards at wedding functions.

Dr. Mikhaelos reported the thieves jimmied the door of his apartment yesterday afternoon while he was away. The five paintings were cut neatly from their frames.

Ex-Bootlegger Denied New Trial Cuts Throat

JERSEY CITY, N. J., April 19 (AP) — James (Niggy) Rutkin, 57, former bootlegger convicted of tax evasion, killed himself with a razor blade today, six days after he was returned to jail when his application for a new trial was denied.

Rutkin, in ill health for many years with an ulcer condition, slashed his throat in the hospital ward of Hudson County Jail shortly after noon, according to U.S. Marshal Joseph Job.

Taken to Jersey City Medical Center in critical condition, he died there at 1:15 p.m.

Funeral Tragedy

U. S. Promises Its Full Support Of Baghdad Pact

TEHRAN, Iran, April 19 (AP)—The United States promised today to give both moral and material support to the five-nation Baghdad Alliance created to protect the Middle East from possible Communist aggression.

This undertaking, announced by U. S. Undersecretary of State Loy Henderson, appeared to tie the United States as closely as possible to the pact without actually signing and ratifying the Baghdad Treaty.

Conference Ends

Henderson made his announcement at the close of the four-day conference here of Ministers of the Baghdad Pact governments—Britain, Turkey, Iraq, Iran and Pakistan. He was the chief U.S. observer at the meeting.

The United States has displayed reluctance to become a member of the Alliance. But Henderson said it had joined two of the organization's committees, would set up a military liaison office and would contribute to the cost of its permanent secretariat. With these moves, it seemed the U.S. role scarcely could be larger if it had full membership.

Arabs Oppose Pact

Egypt leads a bloc of Arab nations which has denounced the Alliance and objected especially to membership of Iraq, the only Arab nation among the five. Delegates of other pact nations have assumed Washington holds back from full membership because it seeks to avoid offending Egypt and Saudi Arabia. However, they regarded the U.S. participation announced by Henderson as a definite rebuff to leaders of those countries.

Russia To Celebrate Stalin's Birthday

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—Moscow radio has announced that Stalin's birthday will be celebrated in the Soviet Union this year—along with that of V. I. Lenin.

The broadcast—in Persian four days ago—seemed an obvious attempt to play down the downgrading of Stalin for Iranian listeners. It said: "Since the dates of Lenin's and Stalin's birthdays are very close together, they are both being celebrated together."

Lenin's birthday is April 22. Stalin's falls on Dec. 21.

PRR Profits Increase

PHILADELPHIA, April 19 (AP)—Pennsylvania Railroad profits for March were more than twice as much as the combined earnings for the first two months of 1956.

Furthermore, the statement of the nation's largest railroad showed that the profit of $4,714,791 equal to 36 cents a share was a half million dollars higher than for March, 1955 when it was $4,139,446 or 31 cents.

Woman Prefers TV Set To Hubby, Granted Divorce

CHICAGO, April 19 (AP) — A 22-year-old wife and mother who said she'd rather have her television set than her husband got her wish today.

Judge Walter O'Malley of Superior Court granted a divorce to Mrs. Darlene Carlson. She testified her husband, Richard, 27, a painter, became violently angry when she stayed up late to watch TV shows. She charged him with cruelty.

The court gave her custody of their two sons, Stephen, 3, and Mark, 1, and ordered Carlson to pay $32.50 a week for their support. Mrs. Carlson was asked if her husband didn't mean more to her than the TV set. She replied:

"Definitely not."

Terrorists Kill Three Cypriots

NICOSIA, Cyprus, April 19 (AP)—Attacks from the anti-British underground killed three Greek Cypriots today and wounded three British members of a security patrol.

Three men burst into a home at the port of Limassol and killed Vassos Stefanou, 25, a waiter in a Royal Air Force mess. His wife watched helplessly. The British imposed a curfew on the port.

A British military patrol was ambushed in an orange grove near Faoaouzozlo. Three soldiers were wounded.

Thirty-one civilians, 26 British servicemen, 11 police and 12 terrororsts have been killed on Cyprus in a little more than a year of violence. British authorities blame Eoka, underground organization demanding union with Greece, for the disorders.

Icardi Perjury Case Killed By Judicial Ruling

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—A judicial ruling today killed the government's perjury case against Aldo L. Icardi—a case based on his denial of complicity in the strange World War II slaying of Maj. William V. Holohan.

U. S. Dist. Judge Richmond B. Keech ruled that a House Armed Services subcommittee before which Icardi voluntarily testified in March 1953, was not functioning in furtherance of a valid legislative purpose.

Acquittal Directed

He said the language of its report on its investigation into the disappearance and death of Holohan behind enemy lines in Italy in December 1944, "indicates the functioning of the subcommittee as a committing magistrate."

After delivering his 12-page legal opinion, Judge Keech directed a jury of six men and six women to acquit Icardi, 35, now a Pittsburgh real estate broker. Icardi, a former Army lieutenant, was second in command of the cloak-and-dagger OSS mission, headed by Holohan, 40, a Harvard-educated lawyer.

Unofficial estimates were that the government spent more than $100,000 in its investigation of the Holohan case and its preparations for the trial of Icardi.

Unexpected Ending

The jurors, who had not been in the courtroom during the long legal arguments preceding the ruling, appeared perplexed when the clerk, William H. Collins Jr., said:

"Members of the jury, by direction of the court, your verdict is for the defendant and is not guilty, and that is your verdict so say you each and all."

The jurors nodded dutifully. And that was the end of the trial which began Monday with indications that it might run for six weeks.

Grace, Prince Take Final Vows, Sail On Honeymoon

MONTE CARLO, April 19 (AP)—Princess Grace and Prince Rainier III took their final marriage vows in the austere Monacan cathedral today and, wrapped in each other's arms, sailed into the misty blue Mediterranean on their honeymoon.

Her Serene Highness, the film star daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kelly of Philadelphia, Pa. didn't answer, but the Prince smiled and nodded emphatically.

Grace, 26, and the 32-year-old sovereign of this little principality—united yesterday in civil rites—became man and wife in the eyes of the Roman Catholic Church in the cathedral ceremony. They exchanged plain gold band rings and pledged to support one another "for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health."

They cut a four-foot-high wedding cake before their brilliantly dressed guests in the sunlit courtyard of the palace. About two hours later came the getaway, started with a drive in their big American car down the long road that hugs the rocky cliff to the quay.

At the quay, with engines purring, was their white 300 - ton yacht Deo Juvante II, whose name the Prince interprets as meaning "God helps us."

Grace carried aboard her 2-year-old poodle, Oliver, who was decked out in a blue velvet collar and leash that harmonized with her outfit—a grey silk suit with full skirt, a white overcoat, a tiny white hat and long white gloves.

At 5:07 p.m. they pulled away. Whistles blared from other yachts and visiting destroyers in the harbor.

Appropriation "Gold Brick," Benson Says

House Group Votes Money But Authority To Spend It Lacking

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee voted $1,200,000,000 for a soil bank program today but Secretary of Agriculture Benson called it a "gold brick" that can't be used to help farmers.

"They put the cart before the horse," Benson said. "Appropriating $1,200,000,000 for the soil bank recommended by the President without giving us the authority to spend it for the soil bank certainly won't help our farmers."

"Obviously," he added, "appropriating money that can't be spent won't give our farmers the soil bank they want."

New Legislation Needed

Benson issued his statement after testifying before the Senate Agriculture Committee, that, "We cannot put the soil bank program into operation without new legislation."

"The President called for a comprehensive soil bank program for farmers including several hundred million dollars for advance payments this year," he said. "The (House) committee action does not authorize this. So the proposed appropriation turns out to be a gold brick."

Action in the Appropriation Committee came with a rush and was described by Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) as an attempt to "take the farm question out of politics."

It was the latest move in a confused struggle over farm relief program in this important election year.

Many Crops Already Planted

While the Appropriations Committee voted 36-7 in favor of the big fund for "acreage reserve and soil conservation payments," its bill contained no authority to make the advance payments proposed by President Eisenhower.

It was not immediately explained how the committee expected the Agriculture Department to put the program into operation on a broad scale this year, since many Southern crops have already been planted and seeding is under way in the North. Presumably many farmers would have to plow up some of their plantings in order to benefit.

The soil bank plan was the only major administration recommendation in the farm bill Eisenhower vetoed Monday. It contemplated payments up to $1,200,000,000 a year to farmers who withdrew acreage from the production of crops now in surplus and devoted it to conservation purposes.

Kefauver Urges Water Projects

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 19 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said today waters of the rivers and oceans should be put to use for the benefit of "the average people" of this country and the world.

The Tennessee senator, campaigning for the Democratic nomination for president, declared the rivers should be harnessed to full capacity and the sea converted into fresh water for agricultural, industrial and commercial use.

He said little had been done on the sea project and it should be pressed with the same enterprise that was put into development of atomic energy.

"It would mean a revolution, in what it would do for people all over the world," he told an audience of several hundred party leaders.

New Fighting Flares In Parts Of Algeria

ALGIERS, Algeria, April 19 (AP)—Renewed fighting flared in widely separated parts of Algeria today. Reinforced French troops clashed with well - organized nationalist rebels battling to throw off French rule.

French troops claimed they had inflicted "severe losses" on a group of 150 rebels which attacked a party of 25 colonial artillerymen near Sebabna in the Oran Province of western Algeria last night. Eleven soldiers—all French regulars—were killed in the attack and two wounded.

18 Seized In Gambling Raids

Revenue Agents Seek Syndicate Info In 5 Cities

PITTSBURGH, April 19 (AP)—Special Internal Revenue Service agents armed with search warrants today raided far-flung alleged betting establishments which a U. S. attorney said were tied together into a nation-wide gambling syndicate.

U. S. Atty D. Malcolm Anderson said the alleged syndicate had a "layoff" headquarters at nearby New Kensington, Pa., which was moved prior to the swift raids. No warrant had been issued for the alleged headquarters.

18 Persons Arrested

Eighteen persons found at the establishments were arrested on charges of violating the federal wagering law of 1951.

The raids were conducted on the basis of search warrants only. No complaints were sworn out against individuals.

Anderson said the raids were conducted primarily to obtain information on the operation of the alleged syndicate and the persons behind it.

Anderson said agents of the Internal Revenue Service's intelligence division had been working underground since February.

Grand Jury Probe Due

He said the investigation made it "apparent" that the alleged New Kensington headquarters received "layoff" bets from gamblers in other cities who had received more bets on a specific event than they wanted to risk alone. This operation, in gambling parlance, is known as "laying off."

The original bookmaker transfers part of his possible gain or loss to the "layoff" point, which then has the responsibility of paying any winning bets or collecting from the losers.

Anderson said he would seek a grand jury investigation to analyze the material seized in the raids and follow up "any leads suggested by this information."

Monaco Thieves Steal Paintings

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, April 19 (AP)—Thieves struck three times in the weeklong Grace Kelly-Prince Rainier III wedding festivities, making off with loot valued at $150,000.

Monaco's third—and biggest—robbery was announced today. Police said five rare paintings valued at $95,000 were stolen from the apartment of Dr. Serge Mikhaelos, a Russian physician who came to Monaco in 1922.

Over last weekend jewels totaling $55,000 in value were stolen from a wedding guest, Mrs. Matthew McCloskey of Philadelphia, and from one of the bridesmaids, Mrs. Maree Pamp of Philadelphia. These thefts occurred in the Hotel de Paris.

Harried police admitted that, as of today, they had no leads. Almost the entire police force of the tiny principality—and many police borrowed from France—have been tied up guiding traffic or, attired in cutaways, acting as guards at wedding functions.

Dr. Mikhaelos reported the thieves jimmied the door of his apartment yesterday afternoon, while he was away. The five paintings were cut neatly from their frames.

Ex-Bootlegger Denied New Trial Cuts Throat

JERSEY CITY, N. J., April 19 (AP) — James (Niggy) Rutkin, 57, former bootlegger convicted of tax evasion, killed himself with a razor blade today, six days after he was returned to jail when his application for a new trial was denied.

Rutkin, in ill health for many years with an ulcer condition, slashed his throat in the hospital ward of Hudson County Jail shortly after noon, according to U.S. Marshal Joseph Job.

Taken to Jersey City Medical Center in critical condition, he died there at 1:15 p.m.

Funeral Tragedy

CITRONELLE, Ala., April 19 (AP) —A station wagon carrying the body of a 6-year-old girl to a burial overturned today, killing the girl's father.

He was Woodrow Kelly, 36. Kelly's daughter, Shirley, died yesterday.

U. S. Promises Its Full Support Of Baghdad Pact

TEHRAN, Iran, April 19 (AP)—The United States promised today to give both moral and material support to the five-nation Baghdad Alliance created to protect the Middle East from possible Communist aggression.

This undertaking, announced by U. S. Undersecretary of State Loy Henderson, appeared to tie the United States as closely as possible to the pact without actually signing and ratifying the Baghdad Treaty.

Conference Ends

Henderson made his announcement at the close of the four-day conference here of Ministers of the Baghdad Pact governments—Britain, Turkey, Iraq, Iran and Pakistan. He was the chief U.S. observer at the meeting.

The United States has displayed reluctance to become a member of the Alliance. But Henderson said it had joined two of the organization's committees, would set up a military liaison office and would contribute to the cost of its permanent secretariat. With these moves, it seemed the U.S. role scarcely could be larger if it had full membership.

Arabs Oppose Pact

Egypt leads a bloc of Arab nations which has denounced the Alliance and objected especially to membership of Iraq, the only Arab nation among the five. Delegates of other pact nations have assumed Washington holds back from full membership because it seeks to avoid offending Egypt and Saudi Arabia. However, they regarded the U.S. participation announced by Henderson as a definite rebuff to leaders of those countries.

Russia To Celebrate Stalin's Birthday

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—Moscow radio has announced that Stalin's birthday will be celebrated in the Soviet Union this year—along with that of V. I. Lenin.

The broadcast—in Persian four days ago—seemed an obvious attempt to play down the downgrading of Stalin for Iranian listeners. It said: "Since the dates of Lenin's and Stalin's birthdays are very close together, they are both being celebrated together."

Lenin's birthday is April 22. Stalin's falls on Dec. 21.

PRR Profits Increase

PHILADELPHIA, April 19 (AP)—Pennsylvania Railroad profits for March were more than twice as much as the combined earnings for the first two months of 1956.

Furthermore, the statement of the nation's largest railroad showed that the profit of $4,714,791 equal to 36 cents a share was a half million dollars higher than for March, 1955 when it was $4,139,446 or 31 cents.

Woman Prefers TV Set To Hubby, Granted Divorce

CHICAGO, April 19 (AP) — A 22-year-old wife and mother who said she'd rather have her television set than her husband got her wish today.

Judge Walter O'Malley of Superior Court granted a divorce to Mrs. Darlene Carlson. She testified her husband, Richard, 27, a painter, became violently angry when she stayed up late to watch TV shows. She charged him with cruelty.

The court gave her custody of their two sons, Stephen, 3, and Mark, 1, and ordered Carlson to pay $32.50 a week for their support. Mrs. Carlson was asked if her husband didn't mean more to her than the TV set. She replied:

"Definitely not."

Terrorists Kill Three Cypriots

NICOSIA, Cyprus, April 19 (AP)—Attacks from the anti-British underground killed three Greek Cypriots today and wounded three British members of a security patrol.

Three men burst into a home at the port of Limassol and killed Vassos Stefanou, 25, a waiter in a Royal Air Force mess. His wife watched helplessly. The British imposed a curfew on the port.

A British military patrol was ambushed in an orange grove near Faoaouzozlo. Three soldiers were wounded.

Thirty-one civilians, 26 British servicemen, 11 police and 12 terrororsts have been killed on Cyprus in a little more than a year of violence. British authorities blame Eoka, underground organization demanding union with Greece, for the disorders.

Icardi Perjury Case Killed By Judicial Ruling

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—A judicial ruling today killed the government's perjury case against Aldo L. Icardi—a case based on his denial of complicity in the strange World War II slaying of Maj. William V. Holohan.

U. S. Dist. Judge Richmond B. Keech ruled that a House Armed Services subcommittee before which Icardi voluntarily testified in March 1953, was not functioning in furtherance of a valid legislative purpose.

Acquittal Directed

He said the language of its report on its investigation into the disappearance and death of Holohan behind enemy lines in Italy in December 1944, "indicates the functioning of the subcommittee as a committing magistrate."

After delivering his 12-page legal opinion, Judge Keech directed a jury of six men and six women to acquit Icardi, 35, now a Pittsburgh real estate broker. Icardi, a former Army lieutenant, was second in command of the cloak-and-dagger OSS mission, headed by Holohan, 40, a Harvard-educated lawyer.

Unofficial estimates were that the government spent more than $100,000 in its investigation of the Holohan case and its preparations for the trial of Icardi.

Unexpected Ending

The jurors, who had not been in the courtroom during the long legal arguments preceding the ruling, appeared perplexed when the clerk, William H. Collins Jr., said:

"Members of the jury, by direction of the court, your verdict is for the defendant and is not guilty, and that is your verdict so say you each and all."

The jurors nodded dutifully. And that was the end of the trial which began Monday with indications that it might run for six weeks.

Grace, Prince Take Final Vows, Sail On Honeymoon

MONTE CARLO, April 19 (AP)—Princess Grace and Prince Rainier III took their final marriage vows in the austere Monacan cathedral today and, wrapped in each other's arms, sailed into the misty blue Mediterranean on their honeymoon.

Her Serene Highness, the film star daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kelly of Philadelphia, Pa. didn't answer, but the Prince smiled and nodded emphatically.

Grace, 26, and the 32-year-old sovereign of this little principality—united yesterday in civil rites—became man and wife in the eyes of the Roman Catholic Church in the cathedral ceremony. They exchanged plain gold band rings and pledged to support one another "for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health."

They cut a four-foot-high wedding cake before their brilliantly dressed guests in the sunlit courtyard of the palace. About two hours later came the getaway, started with a drive in their big American car down the long road that hugs the rocky cliff to the quay.

At the quay, with engines purring, was their white 300 - ton yacht Deo Juvante II, whose name the Prince interprets as meaning "God helps us."

Grace carried aboard her 2-year-old poodle, Oliver, who was decked out in a blue velvet collar and leash that harmonized with her outfit—a grey silk suit with full skirt, a white overcoat, a tiny white hat and long white gloves.

At 5:07 p.m. they pulled away. Whistles blared from other yachts and visiting destroyers in the harbor.

Appropriation "Gold Brick," Benson Says

House Group Votes Money But Authority To Spend It Lacking

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee voted $1,200,000,000 for a soil bank program today but Secretary of Agriculture Benson called it a "gold brick" that can't be used to help farmers.

"They put the cart before the horse," Benson said. "Appropriating $1,200,000,000 for the soil bank recommended by the President without giving us the authority to spend it for the soil bank certainly won't help our farmers."

"Obviously," he added, "appropriating money that can't be spent won't give our farmers the soil bank they want."

New Legislation Needed

Benson issued his statement after testifying before the Senate Agriculture Committee, that, "We cannot put the soil bank program into operation without new legislation."

"The President called for a comprehensive soil bank program for farmers including several hundred million dollars for advance payments this year," he said. "The (House) committee action does not authorize this. So the proposed appropriation turns out to be a gold brick."

Action in the Appropriation Committee came with a rush and was described by Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) as an attempt to "take the farm question out of politics."

It was the latest move in a confused struggle over farm relief program in this important election year.

Many Crops Already Planted

While the Appropriations Committee voted 36-7 in favor of the big fund for "acreage reserve and soil conservation payments," its bill contained no authority to make the advance payments proposed by President Eisenhower.

It was not immediately explained how the committee expected the Agriculture Department to put the program into operation on a broad scale this year, since many Southern crops have already been planted and seeding is under way in the North. Presumably many farmers would have to plow up some of their plantings in order to benefit.

The soil bank plan was the only major administration recommendation in the farm bill Eisenhower vetoed Monday. It contemplated payments up to $1,200,000,000 a year to farmers who withdrew acreage from the production of crops now in surplus and devoted it to conservation purposes.

Kefauver Urges Water Projects

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 19 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said today waters of the rivers and oceans should be put to use for the benefit of "the average people" of this country and the world.

The Tennessee senator, campaigning for the Democratic nomination for president, declared the rivers should be harnessed to full capacity and the sea converted into fresh water for agricultural, industrial and commercial use.

He said little had been done on the sea project and it should be pressed with the same enterprise that was put into development of atomic energy.

"It would mean a revolution, in what it would do for people all over the world," he told an audience of several hundred party leaders.

New Fighting Flares In Parts Of Algeria

ALGIERS, Algeria, April 19 (AP)—Renewed fighting flared in widely separated parts of Algeria today. Reinforced French troops clashed with well - organized nationalist rebels battling to throw off French rule.

French troops claimed they had inflicted "severe losses" on a group of 150 rebels which attacked a party of 25 colonial artillerymen near Sebabna in the Oran Province of western Algeria last night. Eleven soldiers—all French regulars—were killed in the attack and two wounded.

Clothing Maker Is Quizzed About Alleged Bribe Loan

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—A tangled story that one clothing manufacturer borrowed $5,000 from another manufacturer for use in bribing government employes was placed before Senate investigators today.

The alleged borrower, Samuel Leider, 64, of Millville, N. J., collapsed in the witness chair after refusing to answer questions and was wheeled off to a first aid room.

He was quoted as having told staff investigators during a private interview that the $5,000 loan was "a plain shakedown," which resulted in a lawsuit when he refused to repay it with interest.

Leider, short, bespectacled president of the Cumberland Cloak Co. of Millville, paled and slumped forward on the witness table when Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the Senate Investigations subcommittee ordered him to tell the story he allegedly had told staff members.

The witness refused to do so on the ground it might tend to incriminate him.

Leider's attorney, Charles E. Ford, said the manufacturer recently underwent a gall bladder operation and had a "heart condition."

Press Is Called Best Political News Medium

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) — Two experienced political writers said today that despite the popularity of television, newspapers are still indispensable to public understanding of politics.

The two were Gould Lincoln, veteran political writer for the Washington Star, and Charles T. Lucey, for the Scripps-Howard newspapers. They presented their views at the annual convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

The editors' meeting also heard discussions of the suppression of news by government agencies, and the question of giving thorough and unbiased treatment of political news.

Both major parties, the Republicans especially, plan to run this year's campaign with far more use of television than usual.

Even so, Lincoln said, newspapers will remain indispensable because they can provide interpretation and background, and cover local contests as well as national.

Complaint Takes Reverse Twist

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 19 (AP)—The man complained to police that a motorist parked by his bedroom window early every morning and blasted him out of bed by blowing his horn.

Patrolman Gerald Wiseman was sent down to investigate. The car owner drove up, gave a "beep" on his horn, and a woman ran out of an apartment building to go to work with him.

The patrolman passed on the complaint to the driver.

Now that fellow who likes to sleep late is looking for another place to live. The woman rider, you see, was his landlady, and she got mad about the complaint.

Dulles Denies Pressure Put On Cambodia

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles declared today it is "utterly false" for anybody to say the United States is trying to force Cambodia into the Southeast Asia Treaty alliance.

The State Department made public an undated letter from Dulles to Cambodian Foreign Minister Nong Kimny, which it said was delivered today by U. S. Ambassador Robert McClintock at Phnom Penh.

Dulles said he was disturbed by "recent statements from various quarters." He said these alleged the United States was trying to force Cambodia into SEATO under pain of losing U. S. economic aid, or of trying to stir up Cambodia's neighbor states of Viet Nam and Thailand "to impose measures of economic warfare upon Cambodia for the same alleged end."

"I regret that these allegations have been made since they are utterly false and could harm the friendly relations existing between our two countries," Dulles wrote.

State Department press officer Lincoln White was asked what Dulles meant by "recent statements from various quarters."

White replied that he referred principally to "distortions of fact" by Communist propagandists in Red China and Northern Viet Nam.

Cambodia's Prince Sihanouk recently criticized U. S. policy in Asia. He said he decided against going to next fall's United Nations meeting at New York City because he felt he is personally disliked in America.

Police Deceived By Boy's Story

ALBANY, N. Y., April 19 (AP)—Six-year-old Jimmy Meddex rushed into naval reserve headquarters yesterday and reported that his "little brother" had fallen into the Hudson River.

"He said 'I'm Superman' and jumped into the water," James said.

Police sped to the scene, launched boats and conducted a two - hour search with grappling hooks. At dark they gave up, took James home and told his mother.

"It couldn't be so," Mrs. Joseph Maddex said calmly. "James doesn't have any little brother."

Rainier Given Yacht Radar By Americans

MONTE CARLO, April 19 (AP) — Prince Rainier III's yacht, the Deo Juvante II, sailed away today equipped with new American radar—a wedding present to the Prince and Grace from Mr. and Mrs. Girard Hale of Santa Barbara, Calif.

"I asked the Prince what he wanted us to give him," said Mrs. Hale, who with her husband lives in Monte Carlo about half the year. "He told me radar equipment for his yacht."

The radar was installed this morning.

Coal Production Boost Seen This Year

PITTSBURGH, April 19 (AP)—The president of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co. today predicted that soft coal producers will mine more than 500 million tons of coal this year for the first time since 1951.

George H. Love told Pitt-Consol shareholders at the annual meeting that coal markets "are stabilizing and the future is promising." He said:

"While coal prices appear stable, the trend seems to be up in the prices of competing fuels such as oil and gas."

Love noted that three big aluminum companies have selected the coal-rich Ohio Valley area for construction of new plants and said "they now are coming to the coal fields for their energy."

Until recently big aluminum plants were located in areas where water power was plentiful.

The price of coal, Love said, is stable "but not high enough to attract marginalcoal production of the sort that came in during the war (World War II) and now have disappeared."

Pitt-Consol reported net income of $3,295,000, equal to 51 cents a share on common stock for the first quarter of 1956, compared to net income of $2,399,000 or 37 cents a share in the same period last year.

Survivor Testifies Marvel Had No Lifeboats Aboard

BALTIMORE, April 19 (AP) — A survivor of the sinking of the pleasure schooner Levin J. Marvel testified today the craft was not as advertised by its owner and there were no lifeboats aboard.

The witness was John C. Ferguson, 17-year-old Bloomfield, N. J., high school junior, whose father, John C. Ferguson Sr., was one of the 14 drowned when the craft foundered.

The Marvel broke up off North Beach, Md., about 15 miles below Annapolis on Chesapeake Bay, the afternoon of Aug. 12 in a storm whipped up in advance of Hurricane Connie. Its skipper, John Meckling, 39, of Annapolis, is on trial in Federal Court here.

Meckling was charged with misconduct, negligence and inattention to duty and with operating a vessel in a reckless or negligent manner so as to endanger the lives and property of passengers and crew.

The first charge bears a possible maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine, and the second one year in prison and a $2,000 fine.

Ferguson testified he cancelled reservations aboard another windjammer operating out of Maine to make reservations for himself and his father.

He said he made the decision because the Marvel was "bigger" and because the brochure its owner supplied made the craft appear more attractive.

The youth noted that the ad in a New York newspaper which attracted him showed the vessel to be 179 feet, but the brochure had it as only 128 feet.

He said a picture of the Marvel in the brochure showed it with a boat on the starboard side, but actually the Marvel had no lifeboats. He said the deck and dining room of the ship were not as "fancy" as they were pictured to be in the brochure.

Ferguson also said many of the skylight glasses were broken, though they did not appear so in brochure pictures.

The youth testified that Meckling had but one assistant to help sail the vessel.

Fatal Heart Attack

Police said Arnold, former Baltimore patrolman, apparently suffered a heart attack at the wheel. The automobile struck a tree in the Brooklyn section when he was stricken.

Whisky And Big Still Confiscated

BALTIMORE, April 19 (AP) — Police raided today what Baltimore County officers said was the biggest illegal whisky still they had ever seen.

Five hundred gallons of whisky were seized by State and county authorities in the raid on an old grocery store building on Freeland road about a half mile from the Maryland-Pennsylvania line, and several miles west of U.S. 111.

One man was arrested as he was driving away in a pickup truck.

The raid uncovered a ton and a half of sugar in the building and four vats capable of holding about 500 gallons each.

The still, officers aid, was in the basement of a large frame building once used as a grocery.

Police Sgt. John Allender said the equipment included an air conditioner and fans to control the heat and disperse the mash fumes.

County police and agents of the State Alcoholic Tax Enforcement unit made up the raiding group.

The number of train passengers in America is only about one-third that of Britain. Even so, the average passenger on an American train travels three times the distance.

Air Guard Base Bids Are Opened

BALTIMORE, April 19 (AP)—The Williams Construction Co. apparently was low bidder at $2,095,746 today on the first of two contracts to construct facilities for the Air National Guard at the Glenn L. Martin Co. airport.

Bids on a second contract will be opened April 24.

Work is to get underway early next month and the Army Corps of Engineers said it is scheduled for completion by January 1958.

The contract for which bids were opened today includes preparing the site and constructing the 1,000 foot runway, taxiways, parking apron, runway lighting, fuel storage and utilities. There were nine bidders.

Trade Pact Reviewed

TOKYO, April 19 (AP)—Japan and Britain reviewed their 714 million dollar trade pact at the midway mark and decided to keep it going with minor revisions until expiration in October.

New provisions allow Japan to export canned peaches and loquats (plums), slide rules, plastic products and cultured pearls and to increase canned salmon sales; Britain may export some additional items and collect in Japanese currency for British films shown in Japan.

SRC Worker Crushed By Tractor-Loader

SUNDERLAND, Md., April 19 (AP)—A State Roads Commission worker was crushed to death early today when a tractor-loader he was operating went out of control and upset on Maryland 510 near this Calvert County community.

Charles W. Crosby, 26, of Prince Frederick, was pronounced dead at the scene. The heavy machine, used for loading trucks, crushed his head, State Police reported.

Air Travel Picks Up

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) — Juan T. Trippe, president of Pan American World Airways says in his annual report that more than 70 per cent of all U.S. overseas travel moved by air in 1955.

Baltimore Opposes BTC Fare Increase

BALTIMORE, April 19 (AP)—The City of Baltimore asked the Public Service Commission today to dismiss the Baltimore Transit Co.'s petition for continuation of a 20 cent fare and higher rates for school children.

The city argued that the State, not the BTC, is operating the seized bus and street car lines and the management is not the proper party to apply for increases.

Company and transit union officials are now working out details of a new contract. It had been understood that it would be signed next week, allowing the end of the State seizure.

About 45 per cent of the American men over the age of 65 still have jobs.

Fur Trade Worried

VANCOUVER, April 19 (AP)—The fur trade here is taking a dim view of a London report that bearskin hats of Britain's guards regiments may be made of Russian grizzly hides. The traditional Canadian black bear supply is dwindling, experts say, but orders can still be filled in Canada.

The primrose is not strictly a rose but is a member of the herb family.

Polygamy Legal

HONG KONG, April 19 (AP)—The Red China newspaper Ta Kung Pao quotes a government official as emphasizing that any overseas Chinese who returns home with wives (plural) will be welcome. It says he pledges no charges will be filed because polygamy is legal on the mainland.

The United States Constitution is the oldest federal constitution in existence.

BALTIMORE, April 19 (AP) — A survivor of the sinking of the pleasure schooner Levin J. Marvel testified today the craft was not as advertised by its owner and there were no lifeboats aboard.

The witness was John C. Ferguson, 17-year-old Bloomfield, N. J., high school junior, whose father, John C. Ferguson Sr., was one of the 14 drowned when the craft foundered.

The Marvel broke up off North Beach, Md., about 15 miles below Annapolis on Chesapeake Bay, the afternoon of Aug. 12 in a storm whipped up in advance of Hurricane Connie. Its skipper, John Meckling, 39, of Annapolis, is on trial in Federal Court here.

Meckling was charged with misconduct, negligence and inattention to duty and with operating a vessel in a reckless or negligent manner so as to endanger the lives and property of passengers and crew.

The first charge bears a possible maximum penalty of 10 years in prison and a $10,000 fine, and the second one year in prison and a $2,000 fine.

Ferguson testified he cancelled reservations aboard another windjammer operating out of Maine to make reservations for himself and his father.

He said he made the decision because the Marvel was "bigger" and because the brochure its owner supplied made the craft appear more attractive.

The youth noted that the ad in a New York newspaper which attracted him showed the vessel to be 179 feet, but the brochure had it as only 128 feet.

He said a picture of the Marvel in the brochure showed it with a boat on the starboard side, but actually the Marvel had no lifeboats. He said the deck and dining room of the ship were not as "fancy" as they were pictured to be in the brochure.

Ferguson also said many of the skylight glasses were broken, though they did not appear so in brochure pictures.

The youth testified that Meckling had but one assistant to help sail the vessel.

Fatal Heart Attack

Police said Arnold, former Baltimore patrolman, apparently suffered a heart attack at the wheel. The automobile struck a tree in the Brooklyn section when he was stricken.

Whisky And Big Still Confiscated

BALTIMORE, April 19 (AP) — Police raided today what Baltimore County officers said was the biggest illegal whisky still they had ever seen.

Five hundred gallons of whisky were seized by State and county authorities in the raid on an old grocery store building on Freeland road about a half mile from the Maryland-Pennsylvania line, and several miles west of U.S. 111.

One man was arrested as he was driving away in a pickup truck.

The raid uncovered a ton and a half of sugar in the building and four vats capable of holding about 500 gallons each.

The still, officers aid, was in the basement of a large frame building once used as a grocery.

Police Sgt. John Allender said the equipment included an air conditioner and fans to control the heat and disperse the mash fumes.

County police and agents of the State Alcoholic Tax Enforcement unit made up the raiding group.

The number of train passengers in America is only about one-third that of Britain. Even so, the average passenger on an American train travels three times the distance.

Air Guard Base Bids Are Opened

BALTIMORE, April 19 (AP)—The Williams Construction Co. apparently was low bidder at $2,095,746 today on the first of two contracts to construct facilities for the Air National Guard at the Glenn L. Martin Co. airport.

Bids on a second contract will be opened April 24.

Work is to get underway early next month and the Army Corps of Engineers said it is scheduled for completion by January 1958.

The contract for which bids were opened today includes preparing the site and constructing the 1,000 foot runway, taxiways, parking apron, runway lighting, fuel storage and utilities. There were nine bidders.

Trade Pact Reviewed

TOKYO, April 19 (AP)—Japan and Britain reviewed their 714 million dollar trade pact at the midway mark and decided to keep it going with minor revisions until expiration in October.

New provisions allow Japan to export canned peaches and loquats (plums), slide rules, plastic products and cultured pearls and to increase canned salmon sales; Britain may export some additional items and collect in Japanese currency for British films shown in Japan.

SRC Worker Crushed By Tractor-Loader

SUNDERLAND, Md., April 19 (AP)—A State Roads Commission worker was crushed to death early today when a tractor-loader he was operating went out of control and upset on Maryland 510 near this Calvert County community.

Charles W. Crosby, 26, of Prince Frederick, was pronounced dead at the scene. The heavy machine, used for loading trucks, crushed his head, State Police reported.

Air Travel Picks Up

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) — Juan T. Trippe, president of Pan American World Airways says in his annual report that more than 70 per cent of all U.S. overseas travel moved by air in 1955.

Baltimore Opposes BTC Fare Increase

BALTIMORE, April 19 (AP)—The City of Baltimore asked the Public Service Commission today to dismiss the Baltimore Transit Co.'s petition for continuation of a 20 cent fare and higher rates for school children.

The city argued that the State, not the BTC, is operating the seized bus and street car lines and the management is not the proper party to apply for increases.

Company and transit union officials are now working out details of a new contract. It had been understood that it would be signed next week, allowing the end of the State seizure.

About 45 per cent of the American men over the age of 65 still have jobs.

Fur Trade Worried

VANCOUVER, April 19 (AP)—The fur trade here is taking a dim view of a London report that bearskin hats of Britain's guards regiments may be made of Russian grizzly hides. The traditional Canadian black bear supply is dwindling, experts say, but orders can still be filled in Canada.

The primrose is not strictly a rose but is a member of the herb family.

Polygamy Legal

HONG KONG, April 19 (AP)—The Red China newspaper Ta Kung Pao quotes a government official as emphasizing that any overseas Chinese who returns home with wives (plural) will be welcome. It says he pledges no charges will be filed because polygamy is legal on the mainland.

Wraps Taken Off New Electronic Brain Cut From Room-Size To Closet-Size

PHILADELPHIA, April 19 (AP) — The U.S. Air Force and Sperry Rand Corp. today took the wraps off a new electronic brain—one cut from room-size to little more than closet-size but just as fast and efficient as its forerunner, the famed Univac.

Like Univac, the new magnetic computer excels in solving complex problems in mathematics and other sciences.

What's more, the "heart" of the new electronic computer, a tiny magnetic amplifier, may never wear out, its developers say. And, because it is smaller, it can be produced at much less cost than the giant Univac.

The Remington Rand Univac division of Sperry Rand demonstrated its new unit at its plant here. The machine was built for the Air Force Cambridge Research Center at Hanscom field, Bedford, Mass.

Although the Air Force intends to use it for a classified, secret military project, Remington Rand officials said it is versatile and can function as a general purpose computer.

The most revolutionary development in the new unit is the magnetic amplifiers, pulse-amplifying devices called ferractors. Hardly less important, however, is a five-by-three inch magnetic drum, spun at 16,500 revolutions per minute.

The ferractors, five years in the making, were described as the answer to the scientists' search for an efficient, reliable substitute for the space - consuming vacuum tubes of earlier computers.

The basic part of a ferractor is a stainless steel ring, or bobbin, three-thousandths of an inch thin. A strip of metal is set around the outer ring, somewhat in the manner of an iron tire on a wagon wheel. Then all that is wrapped with fine wire, about 1-20th the breadth of a human hair.

To indicate their size—about 40 of these spools would just about fill a jumbo peanut shell.

Remington Rand says it has "life-tested" these spools and that they have shown no indication of wearing out.

What can the magnetic computer do? It can add two 10-digit numbers in 90 microseconds and perform a multiplication in from .3 to 1.7 milliseconds. This means 11,000 additions or 3,000 multiplications each second.

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—Tickets to the April-in-Paris Charity Ball at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel next Friday night cost $200 a couple. Those staying for a champagne breakfast afterwards will pay an additional $25 each, and raffle tickets will sell for $100.

Behavior Of Dreamer And Theater Goer Similar

ATLANTIC CITY, April 19 (AP) — In dreaming, your behavior in bed is much the same as though you were at a Broadway show, two University of Chicago scientists said yesterday.

That is, just before your dream "show" begins, you move and turn restlessly in bed—just as people twist and turn in their seats in a theater before the curtain goes up.

Once the dream starts, your body movements stop, except for minor ones, such as finger twitching. But, at the end of the dream, "large" body movements immediately begin again—analagous to people in a theater preparing to leave—said physiologists William Dement and Nathaniel Kleitman.

They told about it at the annual meeting of the Federation of American Socities for Experimental Biology in reporting various new findings about dreams based upon studies made with instruments, brain waves, and body movements.

These scientists previously had established that eye movements during sleep are connected with periods of dreaming—and these movements are detectable by electrodes attached to the eyelids.

Yesterday, they reported that the nature of the eye movements is related to the "content" of dreams.

That is, up-and-down movements are connected with dreams involving climbing and similar activities—presumably including the awful type where you're falling from a height.

On the other hand, side-to-side eye movements characterize dreams concerned with "watching" activities on a horizontal plane.

Describing studies of the dreams of 20 people, the scientists said dreams were recalled by the subjects in 130 out of 160 cases following eye movements.

Steps Taken To Ban Tiflis Demonstrations

Editor's Note: Associated Press correspondent Roy Essoyan is in Tiflis, capital of Soviet Georgia, with the first group of Western newsmen to visit the city since pro-Stalin demonstrations there last month. There is another of his dispatches describing eyewitness accounts of the trouble.

By ROY ESSOYAN

TIFLIS, Soviet Georgia, April 19 (AP)—The rector of Tiflis University said today authorities have taken steps to prevent a repetition of student demonstrations that disrupted last month's observance of Stalin's third death anniversary.

The university chief, Victor Kupradze, said he expected no trouble at a ceremony next Sunday unveiling Tiflis' first big monument to Lenin, or at the traditional May Day parade in this capital of Stalin's native Georgia.

The precautionary measures taken are mainly in the fields of propaganda and indoctrination, but the military obviously learned a lesson from last month's pro-Stalin disturbances.

Kupradze said lectures and discussions of the speech made by Soviet Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev to the 20th party Congress in Moscow were started at the university a week or 10 days ago. This speech denounced Stalin's one-man rule and the "cult of the individual" he exemplified.

"It would have been much better if we had started that before," Kupradze said in an interview.

Speaking of the March 9 demonstrations, the rector said:

"Provocateurs and dark elements who have no love for Stalin inflamed the national feelings of students and exploited them for their own ends."

Kupradze, a distinguished-looking white-haired man of 52, sat in front of a full-length portrait of Lenin during the interview. Facing him was a large painting of Stalin in a military uniform.

He said that at the height of the disorders, demonstrators "stopped street cars and buses, seized private cars and tore around the streets shouting illegal nationalistic slogans."

There were some casualties from smashups due to the wild driving and the general disorder, he said, but Western reports that hundreds were killed were not true.

"I cannot say how many were killed," he added. "I think none were. I know no students at my university were killed. As for other schools, I cannot say."

Asked if the militia would be reinforced during the observances next Sunday and May 1, Kupradze said:

"I don't know. It is up to the militia to take care of the situation. I think they have learned from their experience." . . .

Kupradze conceded that the new Communist party line downgrading Stalin was going down harder in Georgia than in the rest of the Soviet Union.

Bread Prices Go Up But Farmers Are Not To Blame

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) — Don't be too hasty in blaming farmers when your bread prices go up, the Agriculture Department advised consumers today.

In a study on bread prices and costs, the department said hourly earnings of workers in the milling and baking industries have more to do with bread price increases than do farm prices of wheat.

The department said that during the last 10 years, the average retail price of bread has increased 7.3 cents a pound, or 70 per cent.

It said that the price of wheat and all other ingredients used in making bread rose only a half cent in that period. The remaining 6.8-cent rise was said to have reflected higher marketing and processing costs, of which labor was a major item.

State Conference Studies Problems About Adoption

A two-day conference on adoption being conducted by the State Department of Public Welfare in Baltimore yesterday and today is being attended by three representatives of the Allegany County Welfare Board.

They are Mrs. Elinor M. Westerfeld, director, and Miss Ethel Wilderman and Miss Elma Shipway, case supervisors for the board.

The conference, which is being arranged by the department, will take place at the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel and is the first of its kind ever to be held in the state.

Aware of the difficulties arising out of the fact that the number of adoptive applicants far exceeds the number of infants available for adoption, the agencies will seek to improve their practice by exchanging views and studying methods that have proven effective.

The conference will feature a series of workshops under the leadership of persons widely known for their work with adoption agencies. The workshops will take up such matters as the early placement of infants and the problems involved in finding adoptive families for Negro and older children as well as for those with handicaps.

At a luncheon meeting yesterday the group heard a talk on the pediatric aspects of placement by Dr. Harry H. Gordon, Pediatrician-in-Chief of Siani Hospital and associate professor of pediatrics at the Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore.

Following the workshops those in attendance will discuss in a general meeting broad matters of law and policy that affect adoption in Maryland.

Three Boys Held On Theft Charge

Three local boys, ranging in age from 13 to 15, have been apprehended by City Police in the theft of 9,000 pellets for a BB-gun from a local store.

Detective James E. Van arrested the boys Wednesday afternoon and released them in the custody of the parents. They will be given a hearing in Juvenile Court at 2 p. m. today before Magistrate Morris Baron.

Lt. Van said the boys stole nine cases of BBs from the rear of Hill's Toy Store on the night of April 12. Each case included 100 tubes of BBs, and each tube contained 100 pellets.

Lt. Van said the pellets were valued at approximately $54, and that the boys will be given a hearing on a larceny charge. Approximately six cases were recovered.

The arrests were made on information supplied by Officers Charles Cubbage, Lt. Van said.

Club Will Meet

In your teens, you want to be like everyone else. Don't let this idea keep you from being you.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Do You Want To Be Different?

The girl who's just emerging from her early teens is casting about for direction. So far, she's wanted to be like everyone else. But now, it seems to be a good idea to learn to be different.

Don't be misled by that urge to be different. Don't let it start a dizzy spin to extremes. An exotic appearance, an affected way of speaking, odd behaviour—all these end you up in a corner looking for a way out.

The rewarding way to be different, and to become the charming woman you have every right to expect to be, is to be yourself. You have a head start there because, of course, you really aren't like anyone else in the world. The first step is to learn to rely on yourself, to think through everything you say and everything you do and make sure that your words and your actions are an expression of the real you.

To follow the easy path of accepted patterns for living only nips your personality in the bud and never brings it to full flower. Study the ways of others, but choose carefully those you make your own. Individuality is always the result of the cultivation of particular personality. It's price is always self-reliance, practiced in all things.

When the traits that make you different are false, are merely those you've tried to assume, nobody believes them, or in you. And you don't develop the belief in yourself that you must have to realize your best self. But as the self - reliance that develops you into a personality of stature becomes stronger, you'll enjoy a by-product of the pleasantest kind: self-esteem.

Tomorrow—For the silver-haired.

Neurosis "Fostered"

WINNIPEG, April 19 (AP)—Dr. Brock Chisholm, former director general of the World Health Organization, says many maternity hospitals worry too much about bacteria instead of the relationship of a mother and new-born child. He told an interviewer:

"We foster neuroses from the day a child is born when we put a baby in a glass-walled nursery, handing it over to its mother just for feeding."

Walter Hedrick To Head LaVale Improvement Unit

Walter N. Hedrick is the new chairman of the LaVale Civic Improvement Association.

Hedrick, who succeeds J. Kenneth Morgan, was elected by the association's board of directors at the annual meeting of the civic group Monday in the LaVale Fire Hall.

The five new directors elected for three-year terms were Maurice Milberg, Lloyd Buchanan, Lloyd Smith, Al Tosh and Gilbert P. Bohn.

Tosh was chosen vice chairman and Mrs. Richard Heacox, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

There are 15 on the board of directors elected by the association, five each year for three-year terms, plus the three members of the LaVale Sanitary Commission who belong by virtue of their office.

The association's board of directors instructed the secretary-treasurer to submit to the Maryland Public Service Commission the association's strong opposition to any increase in gas rates by the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company.

The street sign committee chairman, Buchanan, reported that a fund campaign is about ready for this project.

Members of the playground committee reported a site is still needed. This association group is cooperating with a similar committee of the LaVale Lions Club.

A membership drive will be launched soon and it was announced that when one person in a family joins, all automatically belong. This is a change in the bylaws.

The retiring chairman, Morgan, was lauded by the directors for his work in the past year. The articles of corporation of the association were revived and definite strides were undertaken toward goals in zoning, street signs, recreation and safety.

Commissioner Seeks Injunction

A bill of complaint has been filed in Garrett County Circuit Court at Oakland by one member of the Board of County Commissioners against the county roads engineers and the other two commissioners.

Docketed by Irvin Roth, through his attorney, Horace P. Whitworth Jr., the bill of complaint seeks a mandatory injunction requiring all funds received from the State of Maryland for road expenditures in Garrett County, to be deposited by the county commissioners with the county treasurer.

The injunction sought would also require that these funds not to be expended by the Roads Department except upon payment to the department by the county treasurer after an order to pay same from the county commissioners has been given directly to the county treasurer and entered upon the minutes of the board.

An injunction is also sought to prevent and enjoin the defendant, William Webb DeWitt, county roads engineer, from paying any vouchers, orders or claims of the Road Department until the vouchers, orders and claims are legally submitted to and approved by the Board of Garrett County Commissioners, as such and officially sitting as the Garrett County board. The approval of such orders must be entered upon the minutes, under the injunction sought by Roth.

Roth states that Section 83 of Article 12 of the Code of Public Local Laws of Maryland (1930 edition) (Chapter 286 of the Acts of 1939 of the General Assembly of Maryland) pertaining to Garrett County states as follows:

"They may classify the business of the county, and designate the meetings at which the several classes of business shall be disposed of. The county commissioners shall transact the business of the county and shall pay all bills by orders made payable to whomsoever due, and said orders shall be delivered directly to the treasurer by the clerk to the county commissioners. The treasurer shall issue his check as treasurer to pay such orders, and shall deliver said checks to payee."

The bill of complaint said each commissioner received $500 annually for expenses incurred by reason of his duties on said Road Board.

It is claimed that the Board of County Commissioners during the year 1955 and 1956 prior to the equity proceedings filed against them (in another case) did not sit as a Road Board and had no records as such of any transactions of said Garrett County Road Board on the minutes of county board, contrary to the aforesaid local statutes pertaining to the county commissioners.

It was further claimed that William Webb DeWitt, road engineer for Garrett County, while under only a nominal bond, received by check from the comptroller's office of the State of Maryland, thousands of dollars as the Garrett County proportion of gasoline tax funds, which checks are made payable to the county commissioners of Garrett County.

Roth said that "these checks do not go through the office of the county commissioners, but contrary to the laws of Maryland, are endorsed by rubber stamp in the office of the defendant (DeWitt), marked "Garrett County Commissioners — Garrett County Roads Department of Garrett County, Maryland."

Roth also said that contrary to law and by by-passing the treasurer of Garrett County, these funds are not deposited with the county treasurer, but are placed in the bank by the defendant, Webb in an account marked "County Commissioners of Garrett County, Garrett County Roads Department," and that said funds are withdrawn only by the said defendant road engineer and the clerk to the county commissioners before and without the knowledge or approval of the county commissioners, sitting as the Garrett County Road Board.

He also claims that contrary to law, bills or vouchers of the Garrett County Road Department are paid prior to approval of the county commissioners and are paid contrary to law directly by DeWitt, countersigned by the clerk of the county commissioners, and not upon order of the county commissioners to the county treasurer.

Census Shows Sizeable Changes In Allegany County Farm Life In Past Five Years

Allegany County farm leaders met with Extension Service officials Wednesday night at the Court House to compare changes in agriculture from 1950 to 1955.

A report of the U. S. Census Bureau for the two years show some notable changes. In 1955 the 864 farms in the county averaged 144.5 acres per farm as compared to an average of only 125 in 1950.

Many of the farms are classified as residential, part-time or self-sufficient as the owners supplement their income by working in industries. A farm, by definition of the U. S. Census Bureau, is a place where three or more acres with agricultural products amounting to $150. Home gardens are excepted.

Despite a decrease in total cropland, farmers in Allegany County have made up for this decrease with actual increase in yields per acre. In 1949, the Census Bureau reports, oats averaged a yield of 27 bushels per acre while in 1954 the yield had risen to 40 bushels. Corn yield per acre rose from 39.3 bushels to 45.5 bushels during the same period.

There are 344 commercial farms in the county, a slight increase since 1950. Of this number, 27 reported a gross income of $25,000, and those with gross sales between $10,000 and $24,000 totaled 37 farms. The other 280 farms acreaged between $250 and $9,900 with the majority being between $5,000 and $9,000 gross income.

Other statistics in the report show 75 poultry farms in 1955 as compared to 34 in 1950. On 21 of these poultry farms a total of 131,879 broilers were sold for $91,522 and there were 224,833 dozens of eggs sold for $103,886.

Dairy farms showed a decrease to 74 and the number of milk cows dropped from 2,918 to 2,665. Despite this, the amount of milk increased 1,561,016 pounds. This indicates a more efficient operation of dairy farms.

A slight increase in the number of livestock farms was noted and a decrease in crop farms. Cash grain farmers have increased from seven to 26 during a five-year period ending in 1954. Vegetable farms have remained about the same in number, but volume of sales has risen $10,000. Increased production of lima beans, cantaloups, cucumbers, string beans, tomatoes and strawberries was reported.

Fruit production on farms continues to decline. In 1950 there were 545 farms with apple trees while in 1954 there were only 163 farms with apple trees. Despite the decline in the number of trees in that period by a total of 28,811, the production of apples rose from 88,066 bushels in 1949 to 89,951 bushels in 1954.

Small, New Nation Earns A Salute

With efforts to reach a cease-fire in the fighting between Israel and Egypt apparently a success, another milestone has been reached as the free and independent nation of Israel this week celebrates the eighth anniversary of its existence.

Tensions of recent months have been even greater than Israel has experienced since the grim days of 1948 when it came into being as a nation.

While the obstacles of a desert and continuing violent antagonism of its Arab neighbors must have seemed insurmountable almost continuously, the people of Israel, with courage and steadfast faith, are turning this country into the Biblical "Land of Milk and Honey." Its record of achievement seems even brighter when viewed against the black background of dangers that currently appear to be eased but which undoubtedly will continue to harass it.

In addition to the agricultural and industrial miracles which have earned for it the admiration of the world, Israel is an oasis of democracy in the turbulent and Communist-threatened Middle East.

Arts and crafts being introduced in stores in this country emphasize another side of this new country that has been overlooked generally. That is, that though it is made up of immigrants with a common racial and religious tradition, they have come from many countries and brought varied skills and methods. Theirs is a new melting pot.

Ex-merchants from Iran, ex-cave dwellers from North Africa, others with ancient skills from such dissimilar backgrounds as Morocco, Yemen, Tunis, Tripoli, and Iraq as well as those from the Central European countries that first overflowed into Israel, now produce in home industries many goods that are now finding an avid market in America.

Like in America, in Israel this "melting pot" background is proving to be an asset in developing a distinctive culture, trade and society as well as a burning intention to maintain independence and democracy.

As an affirmation of faith that Israel will endure despite hardships, anguish and threats, freedom-loving people everywhere salute the Republic of Israel on its eighth anniversary.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Responsibility

What the Riesel case has thus far established is:

1. That unless there are enough police walking the beat in our big cities, our citizens are not safe and criminals can get away with murder;

2. That labor racketeering remains a fact and that the responsibility for cleaning labor's house rests upon the leadership and the rank and file of the labor unions. It will be better for the labor unions to do the job themselves rather than to wait for rigid legislation.

With 15,000,000 of the American labor force of about 66,000,000 in organized unions, the power and responsibility of these unions exceeds anything that was anticipated by the labor leaders themselves. Although labor union management is becoming a career in the United States, attracting to itself men of education and culture, it is also true that many of the top leadership have emerged to their positions by brawn and fists and even brass knuckles, while others rose through Communist support in the days of the united front.

The rank and file, the dues-paying members, are the kind of Americans one finds in churches, in PTA's, in American Legion posts. They do not settle arguments by throwing sulphuric acid in their opponents' eyes or by taking them for a ride. They do not use a longshoreman's hook to win an election. When a labor leader uses rough-house methods to achieve ends, he hardly ever lets his union members in on the sport; he hires goons for that purpose and that brings the racketeer into the labor union. It also makes the unaudited, unreported, enormous treasuries of the unions vulnerable to racketeering raids.

Those who believe that personality attacks on individual labor leaders will solve any problems are living in the dim and distant past. For better or for worse, the American form of labor organization is not only here to stay but it will proliferate. The real question is, will it assume public responsibility equal to its social importance and political power? Unless the unions assume such responsibility voluntarily, the law is bound to intervene. It is not in the public interest that racketeers, ex-convicts or other disorderly individuals should head labor unions or should be in control of their treasuries. It is to nobody's advantage that welfare funds should be in the hands of improper persons, wholly uncontrolled by state insurance boards.

To the public, it would seem that now that the AFL and the CIO are united and when jurisdictional disputes between the two federations ought not to exist, that the labor leadership might subside to constructive work. While it is true that at the time this article is written, nothing has been accomplished in the effort to track down the acid-thrower in the Riesel Case, and while it is also true that an attempt has been made to find a diversionary conclusion, there is little doubt in my mind that Victor Riesel was being punished because he was providing a grand jury with such information as he possessed.

I have known this man intimately since he started his journalistic career on the Socialist New Leader. Like all specialists, Riesel has been fanatical and argumentative. Had he not believed in his cause, he could have found easier and pleasanter ways of earning a living. He might have specialized in reporting about the love affairs, true and press-agented, of movie actresses and other celebrities. He chose his cause and his forum and took his risks. He managed to make readable an unpopular and unpleasant subject. He fought for clean trade unionism and made a career of it. I have known enough of Riesel's private affairs to be certain that he did not use his knowledge for other than proper purposes.

It would be of great value to find one labor leader who would pick up the fight against the racketeers in American trade unionism—just one. So far, they have all been silent, perhaps fearing the acid-thrower. But such silence can only force the public official to take up the challenge in response not only to public demand but to the sense of shame which must exist among the rank and file of the American worker. Why is it that the labor movement in Great Britain has not become subject to racketeering? There trade union leadership is an accepted profession.

Newsmen Blamed By Congressman For Not Helping Censorship Fight

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The American Society of Newspaper Editors, meeting in Washington this week, will be interested in the findings of Congressman John Moss, the diligent California Democrat who, more than any other public official, has been digging into press censorship.

Moss took a trip to Europe last summer to ascertain whether American newsmen overseas are having trouble getting news from American diplomats and generals. He found that most correspondents feared reprisals if they criticized the officials on whom they depend for stories.

"I found," says Moss, "that it's hard to get newspaper people to put their experiences in writing."

Back in Washington Moss has also had a hard time getting newsmen to cooperate. He got excellent news tips from them personally and orally, but they didn't want to testify or stick their necks out in any way that might bring retaliation from government officials or close up their news sources.

NOTE — Moss has tried to keep politics out of his censorship investigation. He says Republicans aren't to blame for the growing suppression of news about the government. Nor are the Democrats.

Self News Suppression

Several recent news incidents have occurred to support Congressman Moss that in his belief some newsmen are not inclined to buck censorship.

On March 20, for instance, Merriman Smith, dean of the White House correspondents, wrote a short item for release by the United Press on March 22 that President Eisenhower was overheard to remark, apropos of a second term:

"I had to say yes because they told me they didn't have time to build up another candidate."

Between the time this story was written and the date of release, wires began to buzz around the White House and the UP office in Washington. Jim Hagerty, the able, all-seeing White House press secretary, was alerted. Suddenly Lyle Wilson, UP vice president in charge of the Washington Bureau, ordered the story killed.

The story ran in early editions of the Washington News, a Scripps-Howard newspaper whose executives own or control the United Press, which indicates that editors and publishers are not always the guilty ones when it comes to voluntary censorship.

Wilson, explaining the kill, said he had ordered it because it was overheard as the President passed down a White House corridor, and "it was impossible to determine to whom the President was talking."

Merriman Smith reiterated that the story was accurate. In reporting it, of course, he was fully aware of current Washington reports that the President really does not want to run again and might step down from office later.

Golf Censorship

Another instance of self-censorship by newsmen occurred when Eisenhower was at Thomasville, Ga., just before he announced for a second term.

Andrew Tully, covering the President's vacation for the Scripps-Howard newspapers, reported in some detail how Ike had lost his temper on the golf course, showed extreme irritation at his caddy, and thrown a golf club with considerable vigor against the side of his golfmobile.

The incident was revealing regarding the health of anyone suffering from a heart condition or high blood pressure, since loss of temper and excitement is something which doctors warn a patient to try to avoid. It was something the public was entitled to know regarding a man who might run for president again. However, no other newspaperman, of the many at Thomasville whom I read, reported the incident.

I was not at Thomasville. However, curious as to why it wasn't reported, I called up Tully to see if the incident had occurred in front of the press or was something which Tully had heard about in a private conversation. It had occurred in front of the press.

When I asked Tully why he had reported it and others hadn't, he said he considered it important and newsworthy. He didn't want to venture an opinion as to why others hadn't. The answer probably goes to the point made by Congressman Moss that newsmen who have to get news out of certain officials, in this case Jim Hagerty, don't like to get in wrong with those officials.

However, the Scripps-Howard newspapers published the Tully story. Roy Howard, head of these newspapers, is a stanch Republican who at times has been a close friend of Republican cabinet members and presidents. He certainly exercised no censorship.

Medicine And Taxes

It's hard to believe, but Internal Revenue has granted tax exemption to a clinic that the Food and Drug Administration has accused of peddling quack cures. . . . Food and Drug brought legal action forcing the Electronic Medical Foundation to stop selling an electrical contraption in interstate commerce which was supposed to cure a host of ailments, but which Food and Drug charged was medically worthless. At the same time this agency stopped the clinic from selling the gadget, Internal Revenue made the same clinic tax-exempt. . . . One satisfied user of this electrical cure-all is Mrs. Ezra Benson, wife of the secretary of agriculture. Mrs. Benson liked it so well that she persuaded her husband to use his influence with the Food and Drug Administration. Good-natured Secretary Benson dutifully wrote a letter to Food and Drug, praising the gadget. In the end, the agency relied on the advice of medical experts and banned shipments in interstate commerce.

Presidents Shouldn't Be Criticized For Vacations

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—The horse-and-buggy days have long since gone, but, judging from some recent comments criticizing President Eisenhower for not staying in Washington during a flare-up in the Middle East, it might be supposed that some people do not know that the airplane and the telegraph and the telephone make it unnecessary for any chief executive to remain in the National Capital all the time.

As a matter of fact, those who wanted President Eisenhower to cancel his recent trip to Augusta, Ga., didn't realize that such a step would in itself have set off an alarm around the world. Stock markets would have been affected, and nervousness about a new call-up of the draft would have ensued.

Communications Arranged

Actually, nowadays a President of the United States can be anywhere in this country and take care of an international crisis so far as military or diplomatic messages or instructions are concerned.

For some years now it has been well known in Washington that only one man—the President—has the authority to order use of the atomic bomb in case of sudden attack. Naturally, if a President goes from city to city, as he has to do occasionally during his term of office, arrangements have to be made for instantaneous communication with him. These have always been carefully planned to meet any emergency operation.

Wherever the President goes, there are telephone or radio contacts and he can even be reached aboard a plane and hold a conversation with his subordinates while traveling in the air. When Mr. Eisenhower goes to Augusta, he has the same set-up on a communications basis that President Truman had at Key West, Fla., during the Korean War—and there were some acute phases in that war.

The telephone and telegraph lines are private. They are for the use of the President and they connect continuously with the White House telephone switchboard and with the telegraph room there. The same preparations are made many weeks in advance whenever the President is planning a visit to Denver or to any other place across the country where he makes a stop. The communications equipment at the President's farm at Gettysburg has been established for several months and can be put into operation at a moment's notice. Conferences by telephone nowadays can be held with three or five or more persons at the same time, and two-way conversations are possible among all the participants.

Better For Concentration

There are folks who think that, when an international situation gets in the headlines, the President should station himself in his office and wring his hands while the photographers take pictures of him "meeting the crisis." The truth is that a President needs time to read the constant flow of messages that come to him from all parts of the world, and he can do a better job of concentration and can think things thorough with far more objectivity when he is detached from Washington's pressure. Any officials needed for a personal conference can always be summoned in a few hours' flying time.

When Mr. Truman went to Key West a few years ago, this correspondent wrote somewhat the same exposition of the presidential communications system and defended Mr. Truman from similar criticisms. Unfortunately, there seems to be a tendency to criticize Presidents when they try to get some exercise or rest. They never really take vacations except for a few hours at a time.

The theory that a chief executive can do a good job only in the midst of Washington's whirl is a fallacy. A President deserves all the time he can possibly take for golf or any other recreation. Past Presidents have had their hobbies, and the nation never begrudged the vacations of Grover Cleveland or of Herbert Hoover, both of whom liked to go fishing.

50-Hour Week

One thing is rarely publicized. It's that a President of often works long into the night and on weekends. The time he spends reading important messages from all over the world and memoranda from his associates is unknown to the public generally—but, whether it's at Augusta or Gettysburg or Denver, the time spent by the President on the golf course is reported. Also, if he tosses out the first ball at the opening of the baseball season, it's widely covered—and, of course, if he doesn't go to the initial game, it offends the fans. Yet the time he spends at his desk during the day or in his bedroom at night reading official papers never gets into the newspapers. It often means a 50-hour week for him.

It is the pettiest kind of partisanship and narrow-mindedness to criticize any President for taking a vacation or trips away from Washington. It would be better for America if all Presidents spent more time traveling around the country rather than tie themselves down to the White House continuously for 12 months a year.

Inside Washington

By Central Press

WASHINGTON—There are Democrats in the Senate who say they still believe President Eisenhower will not run for a second term despite his positive, affirmative decision to do so.

The lawmakers say the President's health may yet result in a last-minute decision by Mr. Eisenhower to withdraw from the 1956 contest. Republicans say it just isn't so.

However, some highly-placed Democrats are not overlooking the possibility that Mr. Eisenhower may retire since four months still remain before the Republican convention in August.

One Democrat, who rather firmly looks for the President to reverse himself, points out that any person who has suffered a heart attack just naturally curbs his work schedule and must avoid strain.

Although the President is maintaining a fairly heavy work schedule, this Democrat says he believes Mr. Eisenhower will eventually change his mind about seeking re-election.

One theory is that the President decided to run again as a kind of "holding operation" so that the Eisenhower wing of the Republican party would have solid support at the August convention in San Francisco's Cow Palace even if he makes a last-minute change in his plans.

Reds Wait

Most of the pending Supreme Court cases challenging the 1950 Internal Security Act and the Smith Act of 1940 probably will be put over until the next term of the high tribunal which begins in the autum.

The court is expected to decide this session whether the Communist party can constitutionally be required to register with the attorney general and list officers and finances as provided for under the Internal Security Law.

However, the tentative schedule indicates that other cases involving the Communists already on the docket will not be heard before the bench quits in June for the summer.

Patent Proposals

The Senate Judiciary Committee thinks it has invented a way to make the United States Patent Office tick better—and it isn't trying to patent the idea. Based on a study by a subcommittee headed by Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, the group has issued a report suggesting that:

"1—The present patent system be adjusted to modern conditions" to protect and encourage individual inventors who try sometimes and somehow to compete with gigantic research laboratories.

"2—The Patent Office and the United States courts are in conflict as to what is and what is not patentable" and something should be done about it since "investment in inventions, in consequence, is discouraged since the property value thereof is depreciated."

"3—Need for maintaining and expanding qualified patent office personnel" is evident since "only in this way can the backlog of pending applications be effectively reduced."

"4—The need for a single court of patent appeals" also became apparent at the subcommittee's hearings, along with the fact that "the court should be assisted in its determinations by a staff of technically trained experts."

Veterans—Lots of 'Em

A survey of the nation shows that half the people in the United States are survivors or dependents of war. The Budget Bureau reports that 83 million people fall into these categories, and could become entitled to veterans' benefits.

While there is only one known living soldier of the Union Army of the Civil War, there are 4,831 widows of the Civil War veterans. All receive pensions. The total veteran population in the United States is nearly 22 million, and nearly 10 per cent have sustained a service-connected disability. Veterans benefits in 1957 will cost the government about $5 billion.

Different Types Of Patients Confront Doctor

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A "great patient" was described recently in the Lancet, a British medical journal. This woman, Ethel Wise, who died recently at age 69, had been plagued by an unusual number of illnesses after an accident in 1926. She suffered from rheumatoid arthritis, rheumatic heart disease, blood poisoning, pernicious anemia, breast cancer, X-ray dermatitis, and pulmonary fibrosis.

In addition, many of the complications associated with these diseases were present. Seven consultants and 32 house physicians attest to the fact that Miss Wise "complained little and endured all things." The account of her medical history ended with the statement: "She was by nature great, and ill health forced greater greatness on her . . . In her body she taught us much about disease; in her mind, very much more about courage in the face of adversity."

Deliberate disability is a different situation. A 14-year-old girl had everything to live for. She had a happy, normal childhood and was a quiet, orderly child. She began to lose appetite and her father, a fussy, meticulous man, gave her a dose of Epsom salts after he learned she was constipated.

The purgative was followed by abdominal pain and marked revulsion against food. Four months later she was hospitalized because her weight had fallen to 66 pounds. Special feeding measures were instituted and the nurses kept an eye on the girl to prevent her from disposing of the food.

This teen-ager was given psychiatric care and within a year her weight had returned to normal. Two years later she had another emotional upheaval but this time she over-ate and reached 156 pounds. Psychiatry again straightened her out. Four years after the onset of her original trouble her weight was normal and she was successfully employed.

A third type of interesting case is the foolish fellow. An English physician tells of a young man who was brought to a surgeon's office with both index fingers cut off. His job was feeding cotton into a cording machine. As an industrial surgeon, the physician knew that this machine is operated with one hand. When the man was asked how he lost the second index finger he replied, "The foreman asked me how I'd done it and I was just showing him when the machine cut off my other finger."

SOYBEAN MILK

F. D. writes: Our baby broke out in a rash and the doctor recommended switching from cow's to soybean milk. My wife is apprehensive about this change and we would like your advice.

REPLY

Substitutes are never as good as the real McCoy but are invaluable when sensitivity exists. Soybean milk contains all the ingredients needed for the baby's growth and development.

EARACHE

B. V. writes: What causes pain in the ear?

REPLY

A disturbance in the ear such as inflammation of the middle ear or the mastoid process. Pain may be referred from inflammation in the nose, tonsillitis, or dental defects.

PARTICLE SPRAYER

Mrs. D. writes: Whenever my husband sneezes he sprays particles of food from his mouth, even though he hasn't eaten for hours. What could cause this?

REPLY

The particles come from some place and that some place usually is between the teeth. Bits of food seldom remain in the tonsil crypts or along the lining of the throat and gullet unless the material is stowed away in diverticuli or cysts of the esophagus.

DISSIPATING ALCOHOL

T. F. writes: Will vigorous exercise help to make alcohol disappear from the body more quickly than during rest?

REPLY

No, because the liver plays a major role in the detoxification of alcohol. This organ is unaffected by exertion, and to my knowledge we can do nothing to make it work harder or more efficiently.

CANCER OF THE PANCREAS

G. W. writes: Is cancer of the pancreas common?

REPLY

It is responsible for two per cent of all cancer deaths and in this respect, is not common.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A psychiatrist told a patient, "Ridiculous that you should still be frightened of thunder at your age! Thunder is a mere natural phenomenon. Now the next time it storms and you hear a couple of claps of thunder, just you do like I do—put your head under a pillow and stuff your ears until the thunder goes away."

A doctor listened impatiently while an elderly patient upbraided him for neglecting her. "Madame," he finally interrupted, "I have given you every remedy and medicine I thought could possibly help you. I simply cannot make you young again." "I never asked for that," replied the patient, "but I entertained a feeble hope that you might help me to grow just a month or two older."

A Capetown, Africa, fire engine on its way to answer a false alarm caught fire itself. The smoke-eaters can't say they were disappointed.

When the water supply failed firemen put out a blaze in a Michigan cheese factory by tapping a tank of whey. "Where there's a will—." You finish it.

After a painstaking search along 100 miles of an ancient camel track, an American archeologist has at last given up his hunt for the lost Arabian city of Ubar. Just another case of a wrong address?

A New York railroad station is installing an electronic brain which will give space available information up to seven months in advance. Who knows where they'll want to be headed a half year from now?

What commuters really need is an electronic voice which will bemand the engineer of the 5:15 stay put until the customers can catch it.

Another boon would be an electric alarm clock which would eject us from the feathers in time to catch the office-bound 8:12 each a. m.

Every tear we shed, says an English scientist, kills at least a million germs. What a boo-hoo-tiful thought!

Small, New Nation Earns A Salute

With efforts to reach a cease-fire in the fighting between Israel and Egypt apparently a success, another milestone has been reached as the free and independent nation of Israel this week celebrates the eighth anniversary of its existence.

Tensions of recent months have been even greater than Israel has experienced since the grim days of 1948 when it came into being as a nation.

While the obstacles of a desert and continuing violent antagonism of its Arab neighbors must have seemed insurmountable almost continuously, the people of Israel, with courage and steadfast faith, are turning this country into the Biblical "Land of Milk and Honey." Its record of achievement seems even brighter when viewed against the black background of dangers that currently appear to be eased but which undoubtedly will continue to harass it.

In addition to the agricultural and industrial miracles which have earned for it the admiration of the world, Israel is an oasis of democracy in the turbulent and Communist-threatened Middle East.

Arts and crafts being introduced in stores in this country emphasize another side of this new country that has been overlooked generally. That is, that though it is made up of immigrants with a common racial and religious tradition, they have come from many countries and brought varied skills and methods. Theirs is a new melting pot.

Ex-merchants from Iran, ex-cave dwellers from North Africa, others with ancient skills from such dissimilar backgrounds as Morocco, Yemen, Tunis, Tripoli, and Iraq as well as those from the Central European countries that first overflowed into Israel, now produce in home industries many goods that are now finding an avid market in America.

Like in America, in Israel this "melting pot" background is proving to be an asset in developing a distinctive culture, trade and society as well as a burning intention to maintain independence and democracy.

As an affirmation of faith that Israel will endure despite hardships, anguish and threats, freedom-loving people everywhere salute the Republic of Israel on its eighth anniversary.

These Days

Responsibility

What the Riesel case has thus far established is:

1. That unless there are enough police walking the beat in our big cities, our citizens are not safe and criminals can get away with murder;

2. That labor racketeering remains a fact and that the responsibility for cleaning labor's house rests upon the leadership and the rank and file of the labor unions. It will be better for the labor unions to do the job themselves rather than to wait for rigid legislation.

With 15,000,000 of the American labor force of about 66,000,000 in organized unions, the power and responsibility of these unions exceeds anything that was anticipated by the labor leaders themselves. Although labor union management is becoming a career in the United States, attracting to itself men of education and culture, it is also true that many of the top leadership have emerged to their positions by brawn and fists and even brass knuckles, while others rose through Communist support in the days of the united front.

The rank and file, the dues-paying members, are the kind of Americans one finds in churches, in PTA's, in American Legion posts. They do not settle arguments by throwing sulphuric acid in their opponents' eyes or by taking them for a ride. They do not use a longshoreman's hook to win an election. When a labor leader uses rough-house methods to achieve ends, he hardly ever lets his union members in on the sport; he hires goons for that purpose and that brings the racketeer into the labor union. It also makes the unaudited, unreported, enormous treasuries of the unions vulnerable to racketeering raids.

Those who believe that personality attacks on individual labor leaders will solve any problems are living in the dim and distant past. For better or for worse, the American form of labor organization is not only here to stay but it will proliferate. The real question is, will it assume public responsibility equal to its social importance and political power? Unless the unions assume such responsibility voluntarily, the law is bound to intervene. It is not in the public interest that racketeers, ex-convicts or other disorderly individuals should head labor unions or should be in control of their treasuries. It is to nobody's advantage that welfare funds should be in the hands of improper persons, wholly uncontrolled by state insurance boards.

To the public, it would seem that now that the AFL and the CIO are united and when jurisdictional disputes between the two federations ought not to exist, that the labor leadership might subside to constructive work. While it is true that at the time this article is written, nothing has been accomplished in the effort to track down the acid-thrower in the Riesel Case, and while it is also true that an attempt has been made to find a diversionary conclusion, there is little doubt in my mind that Victor Riesel was being punished because he was providing a grand jury with such information as he possessed.

I have known this man intimately since he started his journalistic career on the Socialist New Leader. Like all specialists, Riesel has been fanatical and argumentative. Had he not believed in his cause, he could have found easier and pleasanter ways of earning a living. He might have specialized in reporting about the love affairs, true and press-agented, of movie actresses and other celebrities. He chose his cause and his forum and took his risks. He managed to make readable an unpopular and unpleasant subject. He fought for clean trade unionism and made a career of it. I have known enough of Riesel's private affairs to be certain that he did not use his knowledge for other than proper purposes.

It would be of great value to find one labor leader who would pick up the fight against the racketeers in American trade unionism—just one. So far, they have all been silent, perhaps fearing the acid-thrower. But such silence can only force the public official to take up the challenge in response not only to public demand but to the sense of shame which must exist among the rank and file of the American worker. Why is it that the labor movement in Great Britain has not become subject to racketeering? There trade union leadership is an accepted profession.

Newsmen Blamed By Congressman For Not Helping Censorship Fight

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The American Society of Newspaper Editors, meeting in Washington this week, will be interested in the findings of Congressman John Moss, the diligent California Democrat who, more than any other public official, has been digging into press censorship.

Moss took a trip to Europe last summer to ascertain whether American newsmen overseas are having trouble getting news from American diplomats and generals. He found that most correspondents feared reprisals if they criticized the officials on whom they depend for stories.

"I found," says Moss, "that it's hard to get newspaper people to put their experiences in writing."

Back in Washington Moss has also had a hard time getting newsmen to cooperate. He got excellent news tips from them personally and orally, but they didn't want to testify or stick their necks out in any way that might bring retaliation from government officials or close up their news sources.

NOTE — Moss has tried to keep politics out of his censorship investigation. He says Republicans aren't to blame for the growing suppression of news about the government. Nor are the Democrats.

Self News Suppression

Several recent news incidents have occurred to support Congressman Moss that in his belief some newsmen are not inclined to buck censorship.

On March 20, for instance, Merriman Smith, dean of the White House correspondents, wrote a short item for release by the United Press on March 22 that President Eisenhower was overheard to remark, apropos of a second term:

"I had to say yes because they told me they didn't have time to build up another candidate."

Between the time this story was written and the date of release, wires began to buzz around the White House and the UP office in Washington. Jim Hagerty, the able, all-seeing White House press secretary, was alerted. Suddenly Lyle Wilson, UP vice president in charge of the Washington Bureau, ordered the story killed.

The story ran in early editions of the Washington News, a Scripps-Howard newspaper whose executives own or control the United Press, which indicates that editors and publishers are not always the guilty ones when it comes to voluntary censorship.

Wilson, explaining the kill, said he had ordered it because it was overheard as the President passed down a White House corridor, and "it was impossible to determine to whom the President was talking."

Merriman Smith reiterated that the story was accurate. In reporting it, of course, he was fully aware of current Washington reports that the President really does not want to run again and might step down from office later.

Golf Censorship

Another instance of self-censorship by newsmen occurred when Eisenhower was at Thomasville, Ga., just before he announced for a second term.

Andrew Tully, covering the President's vacation for the Scripps-Howard newspapers, reported in some detail how Ike had lost his temper on the golf course, showed extreme irritation at his caddy, and thrown a golf club with considerable vigor against the side of his golfmobile.

The incident was revealing regarding the health of anyone suffering from a heart condition or high blood pressure, since loss of temper and excitement is something which doctors warn a patient to try to avoid. It was something the public was entitled to know regarding a man who might run for president again. However, no other newspaperman, of the many at Thomasville whom I read, reported the incident.

I was not at Thomasville. However, curious as to why it wasn't reported, I called up Tully to see if the incident had occurred in front of the press or was something which Tully had heard about in a private conversation. It had occurred in front of the press.

When I asked Tully why he had reported it and others hadn't, he said he considered it important and newsworthy. He didn't want to venture an opinion as to why others hadn't. The answer probably goes to the point made by Congressman Moss that newsmen who have to get news out of certain officials, in this case Jim Hagerty, don't like to get in wrong with those officials.

However, the Scripps-Howard newspapers published the Tully story. Roy Howard, head of these newspapers, is a stanch Republican who at times has been a close friend of Republican cabinet members and presidents. He certainly exercised no censorship.

WASHINGTON—There are Democrats in the Senate who say they still believe President Eisenhower will not run for a second term despite his positive, affirmative decision to do so.

The lawmakers say the President's health may yet result in a last-minute decision by Mr. Eisenhower to withdraw from the 1956 contest. Republicans say it just isn't so.

However, some highly-placed Democrats are not overlooking the possibility that Mr. Eisenhower may retire since four months still remain before the Republican convention in August.

One Democrat, who rather firmly looks for the President to reverse himself, points out that any person who has suffered a heart attack just naturally curbs his work schedule and must avoid strain.

Although the President is maintaining a fairly heavy work schedule, this Democrat says he believes Mr. Eisenhower will eventually change his mind about seeking re-election.

One theory is that the President decided to run again as a kind of "holding operation" so that the Eisenhower wing of the Republican party would have solid support at the August convention in San Francisco's Cow Palace even if he makes a last-minute change in his plans.

Reds Wait

Most of the pending Supreme Court cases challenging the 1950 Internal Security Act and the Smith Act of 1940 probably will be put over until the next term of the high tribunal which begins in the autum.

The court is expected to decide this session whether the Communist party can constitutionally be required to register with the attorney general and list officers and finances as provided for under the Internal Security Law.

However, the tentative schedule indicates that other cases involving the Communists already on the docket will not be heard before the bench quits in June for the summer.

Patent Proposals

The Senate Judiciary Committee thinks it has invented a way to make the United States Patent Office tick better—and it isn't trying to patent the idea. Based on a study by a subcommittee headed by Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney, the group has issued a report suggesting that:

"1—The present patent system be adjusted to modern conditions" to protect and encourage individual inventors who try sometimes and somehow to compete with gigantic research laboratories.

"2—The Patent Office and the United States courts are in conflict as to what is and what is not patentable" and something should be done about it since "investment in inventions, in consequence, is discouraged since the property value thereof is depreciated."

"3—Need for maintaining and expanding qualified patent office personnel" is evident since "only in this way can the backlog of pending applications be effectively reduced."

"4—The need for a single court of patent appeals" also became apparent at the subcommittee's hearings, along with the fact that "the court should be assisted in its determinations by a staff of technically trained experts."

Veterans—Lots of 'Em

A survey of the nation shows that half the people in the United States are survivors or dependents of war. The Budget Bureau reports that 83 million people fall into these categories, and could become entitled to veterans' benefits.

While there is only one known living soldier of the Union Army of the Civil War, there are 4,831 widows of the Civil War veterans. All receive pensions. The total veteran population in the United States is nearly 22 million, and nearly 10 per cent have sustained a service-connected disability. Veterans benefits in 1957 will cost the government about $5 billion.

Different Types Of Patients Confront Doctor

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A "great patient" was described recently in the Lancet, a British medical journal. This woman, Ethel Wise, who died recently at age 69, had been plagued by an unusual number of illnesses after an accident in 1926. She suffered from rheumatoid arthritis, rheumatic heart disease, blood poisoning, pernicious anemia, breast cancer, X-ray dermatitis, and pulmonary fibrosis.

In addition, many of the complications associated with these diseases were present. Seven consultants and 32 house physicians attest to the fact that Miss Wise "complained little and endured all things." The account of her medical history ended with the statement: "She was by nature great, and ill health forced greater greatness on her . . . In her body she taught us much about disease; in her mind, very much more about courage in the face of adversity."

Deliberate disability is a different situation. A 14-year-old girl had everything to live for. She had a happy, normal childhood and was a quiet, orderly child. She began to lose appetite and her father, a fussy, meticulous man, gave her a dose of Epsom salts after he learned she was constipated.

The purgative was followed by abdominal pain and marked revulsion against food. Four months later she was hospitalized because her weight had fallen to 66 pounds. Special feeding measures were instituted and the nurses kept an eye on the girl to prevent her from disposing of the food.

This teen-ager was given psychiatric care and within a year her weight had returned to normal. Two years later she had another emotional upheaval but this time she over-ate and reached 156 pounds. Psychiatry again straightened her out. Four years after the onset of her original trouble her weight was normal and she was successfully employed.

A third type of interesting case is the foolish fellow. An English physician tells of a young man who was brought to a surgeon's office with both index fingers cut off. His job was feeding cotton into a cording machine. As an industrial surgeon, the physician knew that this machine is operated with one hand. When the man was asked how he lost the second index finger he replied, "The foreman asked me how I'd done it and I was just showing him when the machine cut off my other finger."

TOMORROW: Dental hygiene.

SOYBEAN MILK

F. D. writes: Our baby broke out in a rash and the doctor recommended switching from cow's to soybean milk. My wife is apprehensive about this change and we would like your advice.

REPLY

Substitutes are never as good as the real McCoy but are invaluable when sensitivity exists. Soybean milk contains all the ingredients needed for the baby's growth and development.

EARACHE

B. V. writes: What causes pain in the ear?

REPLY

A disturbance in the ear such as inflammation of the middle ear or the mastoid process. Pain may be referred from inflammation in the nose, tonsillitis, or dental defects.

PARTICLE SPRAYER

Mrs. D. writes: Whenever my husband sneezes he sprays particles of food from his mouth, even though he hasn't eaten for hours. What could cause this?

REPLY

The particles come from some place and that some place usually is between the teeth. Bits of food seldom remain in the tonsil crypts or along the lining of the throat and gullet unless the material is stowed away in diverticuli or cysts of the esophagus.

DISSIPATING ALCOHOL

T. F. writes: Will vigorous exercise help to make alcohol disappear from the body more quickly than during rest?

REPLY

No, because the liver plays a major role in the detoxification of alcohol. This organ is unaffected by exertion, and to my knowledge we can do nothing to make it work harder or more efficiently.

CANCER OF THE PANCREAS

G. W. writes: Is cancer of the pancreas common?

REPLY

It is responsible for two per cent of all cancer deaths and in this respect, is not common.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A psychiatrist told a patient, "Ridiculous that you should still be frightened of thunder at your age! Thunder is a mere natural phenomenon. Now the next time it storms and you hear a couple of claps of thunder, just you do like I do—put your head under a pillow and stuff your ears until the thunder goes away."

A doctor listened impatiently while an elderly patient upbraided him for neglecting her. "Madame," he finally interrupted, "I have given you every remedy and medicine I thought could possibly help you. I simply cannot make you young again." "I never asked for that," replied the patient, "but I entertained a feeble hope that you might help me to grow just a month or two older."

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

A Capetown, Africa, fire engine on its way to answer a false alarm caught fire itself. The smoke-eaters can't say they were disappointed.

When the water supply failed firemen put out a blaze in a Michigan cheese factory by tapping a tank of whey. "Where there's a will—." You finish it.

After a painstaking search along 100 miles of an ancient camel track, an American archeologist has at last given up his hunt for the lost Arabian city of Ubar. Just another case of a wrong address?

A New York railroad station is installing an electronic brain which will give space available information up to seven months in advance. Who knows where they'll want to be headed a half year from now?

What commuters really need is an electronic voice which will bemand the engineer of the 5:15 stay put until the customers can catch it.

Another boon would be an electric alarm clock which would eject us from the feathers in time to catch the office-bound 8:12 each a. m.

Every tear we shed, says an English scientist, kills at least a million germs. What a boo-hoo-tiful thought!

Rifle Blast Kills Retired Garrett Miner

Samuel J. Burkholder, 71-year-old retired Garrett, Pa., coal miner, was killed by a charge from a .32-40 rifle which the Somerset County coronor, Robert H. Halverson, said was self-inflicted.

Halverson said that Burkholder's wife, Mrs. Caroline (Haaga) Burkholder, left home Wednesday morning to do some work at a nearby church and when she returned about noon found her husband dead in the basement.

The time of death was set at about 10:30 a. m. Wednesday. Halverson said Burkholder apparently had become despondent as a result of a heart condition.

Son of the late Jacob W. and Minerva (Joly) Burkholder, Mr. Burkholder was born September 13, 1884, in Garrett. He is survived by his wife; three daughters, Mrs. Helen Latzsch, Southgate, Calif.; Mrs. Minnie Kappe, West Caldwell, N. J., and Mrs. Ruth Wayant, Garrett; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Potts, Lorain, Ohio, and Mrs. Mae Lichty, Rockwood, Pa.; six brothers, Lloyd J. Burkholder, Johnstown, Pa.; John J., William J., Lawrence J. and Norman J. Burkholder, all of Garrett, and Frank J. Burkholder, Rockwood, and six grandchildren.

A funeral service will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the Price Funeral Home, Meyersdale, Pa., with Rev. Glenn B. Keidel, pastor of the Garrett Lutheran Church, officiating. Burial will take place in the Somerset County Memorial Park near Somerset.

New County Budget Disappoints Michael

One of the few spectators on hand Tuesday when the Allegany County Board of Commissioners adopted the levy list and budget for the 1956-57 fiscal year starting July 1 was Mayor Okey Michael of Westernport who told Commission President William H. Lemmert that he frankly was disappointed that no funds were included for Westernport.

The Mayor and Council of Westernport submitted a bill to the county commissioners for some $57,000 damages allegedly sustained by the town in the construction of the Savage River Dam.

Lemmert said the county commissioners acted on the recommendation of the Upper Potomac River Commission in declining to include damages for Westernport in the budget. John J. McMullen, chairman of the Upper Potomac River Commission, submitted a letter to the county board in which he said his board did not think the county liable for the damages claimed. Michael said he considered it a "just bill" which should be paid.

creek, according to Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer for the Corps of Engineers.

The existing railroad bridge has a number of piers under it. Those which lie within the new channel will be removed, and in lieu of them, one long-slender pier will be constructed to support the double span bridge.

The pier, which will split the water like the prow of a fast ocean liner, will be 174 feet long, vary in width from one to nine feet and be about 25 feet high.

The splitter-type pier proved to be an excellent ice breaker and debris cannot pile up beneath it to endanger the span.

Win Build Trestle

All traffic over the Western Maryland Railway here will be moved, while the new bridge is under construction, over a single track track temporary trestle which will be built parallel to and just to the east or upstream side of the bridge.

In connection with the work, the railway will move a switch, located near the watch box, closer to the station.

The trestle will be supported by 10 steel bents—rows of steel piles. It will go between the existing track and the building.

The George F. Hazelwood Company of this city submitted the apparent low bid of $2,854,253 for the Section 4 work when bids were opened by the Corps of Engineers Tuesday.

Truck Driver Exonerated In Fatal Crash

Charles Glenn Medley, 46, RFD 3, Norfolk, Va., was exonerated of blame in a fatal accident on U. S. Route 219 in Conemaugh Township, after an inquest yesterday morning in the Somerset County (Pa.) Court House before Robert H. Halverson, county coroner.

Medley was driving a tractor-trailer truck north on Route 219 when it skidded slightly on two-and-one-half inches of snow about 8:30 a. m. Wednesday. He was delivering a load of shubbery from Greenbrier, Inc., to a store in Johnstown, Pa.

George H. Heidingsfelder, 47, of Johnstown, driving a Replogle Transit Company truck south on U. S. 219, drove as far off the road to avoid the crash. Heidingsfelder and Wilbur Shrift, 36, RFD 1, Portage, Pa., who was riding beside him, were unhurt.

However, James Maser, 37, also of Johnstown, was fatally injured when in some unexplained manner he fell out of the truck cab and was struck by Medley's truck. He was pronounced dead on arrival at Johnstown Memorial Hospital of a broken neck and fractured skull.

It was believed that in the excitement Maser might have accidentally opened the truck door.

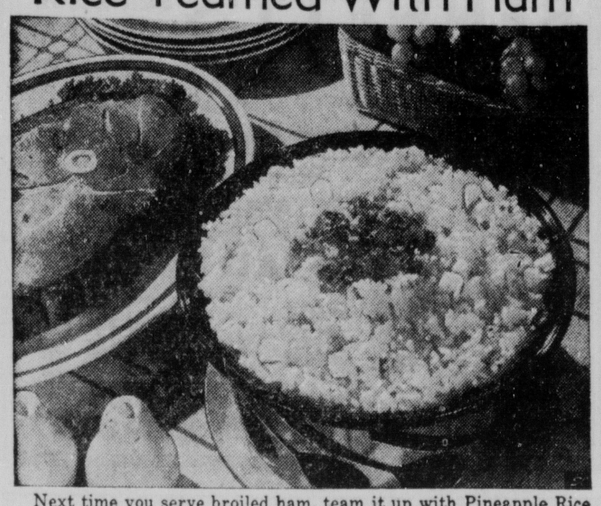
Rice Teamed With Ham



Next time you serve broiled ham, team it up with Pineapple Rice — a delicious combination that seems to belong together. The rice is very simply made, too, because it's done with packaged pre-cooked rice. That's the rice with the fluffy characteristics you look for, though it is made with only a fraction of the effort of ordinary rice. Serve this unusual dish with rich ham gravy and you'll have a hard-to-beat combination.

Baked Pineapple Rice

1-1/3 cups (5-ounce package) packaged pre-cooked rice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1-1/2 cups boiling water
1 cup drained canned crushed pineapple
1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons pineapple juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon salt

Add rice and 1/2 teaspoon salt to boiling water in saucepan. Mix just to moisten all rice. Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 13 minutes. Combine the rice with other ingredients, mixing lightly. Turn into greased 1-quart baking dish. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 20 minutes. Serve with ham. Makes about 4 cups, or 4 or 5 servings.

Let's Clear The Lunch Hurdles

Let's get the jump on the carried lunch. Packing it can be a bit of a game. Knowing the rules, sends us flying clear of the hurdles.

Hurdles to trip us in this morning dash to prepare the away-from-home meal are: Making it nutritionally sound and packing enough food to meet energy and nutritional needs. Wherever this lunch is eaten—school, office, or plant, it can be inviting, nutritious, and economical.

The good lunch supplies one-third of the day's food requirements of calories, protein, vitamins, minerals and energy. Such a lunch pattern is recommended by the National School Lunch Program. It includes two ounces protein-rich foods; three-fourths cup vegetables or fruit, or both; one or more portions of enriched or whole grain bread, two teaspoons butter or margarine and one-half pint milk.

This pattern as seen in the packed lunch includes one or more protein-rich foods—meat, eggs, cheese or peanut butter which may be used as sandwich fillings. Sandwiches are two-fold sources of protein-rich foods—fillings and enriched bread. Four slices of enriched bread contribute approximately 12 per cent of the daily protein needs as recommended for the average young man. Active adults and teenagers need two or three such sandwiches.

Fresh vegetables are carried as relishes or salads. Lettuces may be packed separately to be added to the sandwiches at lunch time.

Desserts give the satisfying, finishing touch to the packed lunch. Cake, cookies, and pies, from bakery or food mart, do double duty, too. The add variety and help meet the high energy needs of growing children, teenagers and adults who are on-the-go.

Fisherman's Luck

Your family's in luck when you serve them this hearty but simple casserole dish. Just take a can of salmon and one of corn from the pantry shelf, mix together with seasonings and crunchy potato chips and bake until browned and bubbly. It's taste tempting either with a sauce or served alone.

Salmon and Corn Casserole

1 pound can salmon
1 6½-ounce package potato chips
1 No.2 can cream style corn
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
½ cup milk
2 tablespoons chopped pimento

Mix together salmon, corn, green pepper, pimento, milk and pepper. Place in casserole and top with remaining potato chips. Bake at 350° for 40 minutes. Serves 4-5.

Exotic Salmon Salad

If you fancy the exotic flavorings of the East, this salmon and rice salad with the curry accent will bring to mind the sound of temple bells. Use the spice with a light or heavy hand as your own taste dictates. Add it to the mayonnaise which binds the flaked fish, rice and crisp vegetables for something truly different and delectable in a salmon salad.

Salmon Curry Salad

1 8-ounce can salmon
1 cup cooked rice
¾ cup chopped celery
¾ cup sliced cucumber
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup mayonnaise
¼ to ½ teaspoon curry powder

Drain salmon; flake into bowl. Add cooked rice, celery, cucumber and salt. Toss lightly. Stir curry powder and 1 tablespoon salmon liquid or milk into mayonnaise. Pour over salad ingredients and mix until all ingredients are coated. Serve on salad greens. Makes 4 servings.

Vermont issued the first copper cents in the United States in the 1780s.

Garland For Your Coffee

Why not give your coffee a garland? Not a flower but a Fruit Garland — a superb dessert in the shape of a wreath. The dough that goes into its making is rich in taste and surprisingly easy to make. Very special, too, is the filling. Five fruit flavors are its essence — ranging from apricots and seedless raisins to the tang of orange juice and peel. Cinnamon and nutmeg give a spicy touch to the mixture, while honey adds a subtle note. Drift the top with a ring of whipped cream as a final decoration for this unusual sweet.

A Fruit Garland has its practical side too. Busy hostesses can make the dough for it the night before, chill it in the refrigerator and bake the dessert the day it is to be served.

When you bring on the Fruit Garland, be sure the coffee cups are filled and waiting. Nothing compliments a delectable dessert the way that coffee does. To suit this delicacy to perfection, the coffee ought to be your very finest brew.

FRUIT GARLAND

1¼ cups sifted, enriched flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ cup shortening
1 egg, slightly beaten
3 tablespoons cold water
(about) Fruit filling*
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Cut in shortening with two knives or pastry blender. Combine egg and 2 tablespoons water. Stir with a fork until pastry forms a soft dough. If necessary, add all or part of remaining tablespoon of water. Chill several hours or overnight. Roll out on lightly floured board into a rectangle about 16 x 7 inches. Spread with filling. Roll lengthwise, like a jelly roll. Shape roll into a ring in 9-inch pie pan. Bake in moderate oven, 375°F., 30 to 35 minutes or until golden brown. Serve warm with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

FRUIT FILLING

⅓ cup each dried, pitted prunes, dried apricots and seedless raisins
1 medium apple
¼ cup honey
¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
Orange juice

Put dried fruit and apple through food chopper, using fine knife. Add honey, sugar, peel and spices. Mix well. Add enough orange juice to make spreading consistency.

Exotic Salmon Salad

If you fancy the exotic flavorings of the East, this salmon and rice salad with the curry accent will bring to mind the sound of temple bells. Use the spice with a light or heavy hand as your own taste dictates. Add it to the mayonnaise which binds the flaked fish, rice and crisp vegetables for something truly different and delectable in a salmon salad.

Salmon Curry Salad

1 8-ounce can salmon
1 cup cooked rice
¾ cup chopped celery
¾ cup sliced cucumber
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup mayonnaise
¼ to ½ teaspoon curry powder

Drain salmon; flake into bowl. Add cooked rice, celery, cucumber and salt. Toss lightly. Stir curry powder and 1 tablespoon salmon liquid or milk into mayonnaise. Pour over salad ingredients and mix until all ingredients are coated. Serve on salad greens. Makes 4 servings.

Vermont issued the first copper cents in the United States in the 1780s.

Garland For Your Coffee

Why not give your coffee a garland? Not a flower but a Fruit Garland — a superb dessert in the shape of a wreath. The dough that goes into its making is rich in taste and surprisingly easy to make. Very special, too, is the filling. Five fruit flavors are its essence — ranging from apricots and seedless raisins to the tang of orange juice and peel. Cinnamon and nutmeg give a spicy touch to the mixture, while honey adds a subtle note. Drift the top with a ring of whipped cream as a final decoration for this unusual sweet.

A Fruit Garland has its practical side too. Busy hostesses can make the dough for it the night before, chill it in the refrigerator and bake the dessert the day it is to be served.

When you bring on the Fruit Garland, be sure the coffee cups are filled and waiting. Nothing compliments a delectable dessert the way that coffee does. To suit this delicacy to perfection, the coffee ought to be your very finest brew.

FRUIT GARLAND

1¼ cups sifted, enriched flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ cup shortening
1 egg, slightly beaten
3 tablespoons cold water (about) Fruit filling*
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Cut in shortening with two knives or pastry blender. Combine egg and 2 tablespoons water. Stir with a fork until pastry forms a soft dough. If necessary, add all or part of remaining tablespoon of water. Chill several hours or overnight. Roll out on lightly floured board into a rectangle about 16 x 7 inches. Spread with filling. Roll lengthwise, like a jelly roll. Shape roll into a ring in 9-inch pie pan. Bake in moderate oven, 375°F., 30 to 35 minutes or until golden brown. Serve warm with whipped cream. Makes 6 servings.

FRUIT FILLING

⅓ cup each dried, pitted prunes, dried apricots and seedless raisins
1 medium apple
¼ cup honey
¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 teaspoon grated orange peel
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
Orange juice

Put dried fruit and apple through food chopper, using fine knife. Add honey, sugar, peel and spices. Mix well. Add enough orange juice to make spreading consistency.

Queries Answered On Cooked Poultry Color

COLLEGE PARK, Md.—If poultry is thoroughly roasted, why is the meat sometimes pinkish in color?

Many homemakers have asked this question. Now U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists at the Western Regional Research laboratory have an answer. Studies there show that certain substances in the atmosphere of any heated oven—or in the hot air over a wood fire or barbecue pit—are the same chemically as some used in the brining and smoking process that produces cured meats. These substances react with traces of hemoglobin in the meat or poultry to give a pink or reddish color.

How much of the poultry meat turns pink and how deep the color becomes depends on how hot the flame or heater is, and whether the poultry roasts in an open or covered pan or is covered with aluminum foil part of the time.

The age of the bird and amount of fat in the skin also count. Because the thinner skin of young birds is more easily permeated by these substances, the flesh underneath may be noticeably pink.

A point to remember, says Mrs. Judith A. Pheil, Extension nutrition specialist at the University of Maryland: The pink color does not affect quality.

Easily cooked rice, hard-cooked eggs and convenient canned vegetable soup make a tasty casserole. Cook 1 cup uncooked white rice, 1½ teaspoons salt and 2 cups water over a low heat for 14 minutes. Add a can of condensed vegetable soup, 1½ cups milk and black pepper. Layer this mixture with sliced hard-cooked eggs in a greased baking dish. Top with grated cheese and bake at 350°F. until the cheese browns, about 30 minutes.

Senate Cloakroom

by Sen. J. Glenn Beall

Not long ago, Representative Emmanuel Celler and I were driving to a meeting in the Office of Defense Mobilization with former Representative Donald O'Toole.

After identifying ourselves to a young Marine at the ODM entrance, we entered a parking lot and the guard returned to a visitors' list in his small booth.

"We're now being logged in as 'three stiffs,' " commented Mr. O'Toole in his rich brogue.

Recollections

The comment, which was typical of my former colleague's down-to-earth wit, reminded me of the many times that throngs used to pack the galleries of the House of Representatives to hear the Brooklyn Irishman reflate the pompous positions occasionally assumed by some of his fellow congressmen.

It also brought back to my mind an incident in which the New York legislator, speaking to a group of friends who were opposed to all foreign aid, offered as sincere an appraisal of the philosophy behind such aid as I have ever heard.

Mr. O'Toole put it this way:

"As long as my children are fairly well fed and there is a hungry child somewhere else in the world, I'll never say that I'm completely against foreign aid."

To my way of thinking, that is the basis on which our foreign aid program must be built.

It gave me great pleasure, therefore, when the administration announced recently that about 15 shiploads of American farm surpluses had been sent to five nations which suffered severe hardships during Europe's unusual cold spell last winter.

Help At Home

In making such donations, the government is not forgetting the needy within its own family.

Food is being distributed to eligible persons within our borders at a record rate, which is apparent from new figures released by the Department of Agriculture.

The department reported that food donations to school children, needy persons and others in this county amounted to about 559,900,000 pounds during the first nine months of the present fiscal year, representing an increase of 65 per cent.

That is the kind of aid that does the most good, I think, whether it is used to alleviate the hunger pangs of people here or abroad.

You can be sure that I will continue to give my wholehearted support to such programs.

Here's a hearty main dish to make with ground beef and versatile white rice. It's quick, too! Mix together 1 pound ground beef, ⅔ cup uncooked white rice, 1 cup diced celery, ½ cup diced onion, ½ cup diced green pepper, 1 No. 303 can of tomatoes, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon steak sauce and 2 cups water. Place in an oven dish and bake in a 350°F. oven for 1½ hours or until the rice is tender and most of the liquid is absorbed.

The dirt which was excavated when the Panama canal was dug was used to fill in swamps and for the Gatun dam. It also was used in building a causeway at the Pacific end.

Strawberry Chiffon Flake Pie

April is the month breakfast cereal and dairy industries sponsor the Third Annual Spring Cereal and Milk Festival to promote the food value of cereal and milk. Few foods can equal the nutritional contribution of the cereal and milk serving at such low cost.

Rarely is so much nutritional goodness, taste appeal, and glamour so readily available to the homemaker. Strawberry Chiffon Pie with Cereal Flake Crust is easy to make. The directions are carefully explained in the recipe below. This pie is only one of the many ways of combining cereal and milk in food preparation. You never outgrow your need for cereal and milk.

Strawberry Chiffon Pie With Cereal Flake Crust

Cereal Flake Crust

4 cups whole wheat flakes
5 tablespoons sugar
½ cup melted butter or margarine

Crush whole wheat flakes very fine. Add sugar. Mix in melted butter or margarine thoroughly. Press mixture evenly into 9-inch pie pan, making the bottom slightly thicker than the sides. Chill thoroughly before adding filling. Yield: One 9-inch pie shell.

Chiffon Filling

1 envelope plain gelatin
¼ cup water
1¾ cups milk
1 package vanilla pudding mix
2 eggs, separated
¼ cup sugar

Combine gelatin and ¼ cup water. Let stand 5 minutes. Add milk to pudding mix. Blend. Cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Beat egg yolks. Mix ¼ cup hot pudding mix into egg yolks. Return to pudding mixture, blend. Cook over low heat 1 additional minute. Add softened gelatin; stir until dissolved. Cool until mixture sets around edge of pan. Whip egg whites to soft peak. Add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating well after each addition. Whip cooled pudding until smooth. Fold egg whites into pudding mixture. Pour filling into pie shell. Chill until firm. Cover with strawberry topping. Yield: Filling for one 9-inch pie shell.

Strawberry Topping

Add 1 cup fresh strawberry halves to 1 cup of strawberry flavored gelatin, chilled to sirupy consistency. Pour over cooled pie. Chill until firm, garnish top, if desired, with whipped cream and sliced berries.

Easy Foreign Recipes That Use Plentiful Round Steak

Stick curry is one of the many universally known Indian curries. For stick curry (sometimes called kebab curry), round steak is cubed and skewered with small onions and green ginger with small onions and green ginger, when the latter is available. The skewered foods are cooked gently in a sauce made of chopped onions, garlic, cloves, whole cardamom seeds, stick cinnamon, and curry powder. The combined spices produce a sauce that is not hot and spicy, but delicate and light—truly Indian in flavor.

Accompany stick curry with hot cooked rice, flat crusty bread (corn bread is a good choice) and asorted curry condiments which might include three or more of the following: chutney, crumbled crisp cooked bacon, chopped peanuts, raisins, chopped hard-cooked egg yolks and egg whites. A simple fruit dessert is a good choice for the meal featuring curried meat.

Indian Stick Curry

1 pound round steak, cut in 1-inch cubes
20-25 button onions
¼ cup lard
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 clove garlic finely chopped
2 whole cloves
2 whole cardamon seeds.
1 2-inch stick cinnamon
1 tablespoon curry powder
½ cup water
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Thread meat cubes and onions alternately on 4 or 5-inch skewers. Melt fat: add chopped onion, garlic, cloves, cardamom seeds, and cinnamon, and cook 5 minutes or until onion is soft but not brown. Add curry powder; cook 2 minutes longer. Stir in water. Place skewered meat and onions in gravy, cover pan, and cook over low heat 1½ hours or until meat is tender. Remove meat from pan, add salt and lemon juice to drippings, then spoon over skewered food when serving. 4 servings.

Mexican style beef steak may be fiery hot, or not so peppery, according to the amount of chilli powder used. The folowing version of the Mexican steak uses only one teaspoon of the favorite Mexican seasoning—just enough to give good flavor to the south-of-the-border meat recipe.

Mexican Style Beef Steak

1 pound round steak
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon chili powder
⅓ cup flour
2 tablespoons lard
1 medium onion, chopped
1 No. 303 can tomatoes
½ clove garlic, minced

Mix ½ teaspoon salt, chili powder, and flour and pound into steak. Cook garlic and onion in fat until tender; add meat and brown on both sides. Add tomatoes and remaining salt. Cover and simmer 45 minutes or until meat is tender. Prepare gravy from drippings. 4 servings.

A simple Mexican dinner, featuring the beef steak, might include steamed rice, tortillas (crusty corn meal-flavored flat cakes, served hot or cold), shredded letuce salad, coconut pudding, and beverages.

MRS. FILBERT'S MARGARINE

Senate Cloakroom

by Sen. J. Glenn Beall

Not long ago, Representative Emmanuel Celler and I were driving to a meeting in the Office of Defense Mobilization with former Representative Donald O'Toole.

After identifying ourselves to a young Marine at the ODM entrance, we entered a parking lot and the guard returned to a visitors' list in his small booth.

"We're now being logged in as 'three stiffs,' " commented Mr. O'Toole in his rich brogue.

Recollections

The comment, which was typical of my former colleague's down-to-earth wit, reminded me of the many times that throngs used to pack the galleries of the House of Representatives to hear the Brooklyn Irishman reflate the pompous positions occasionally assumed by some of his fellow congressmen.

It also brought back to my mind an incident in which the New York legislator, speaking to a group of friends who were opposed to all foreign aid, offered as sincere an appraisal of the philosophy behind such aid as I have ever heard.

Mr. O'Toole put it this way:

"As long as my children are fairly well fed and there is a hungry child somewhere else in the world, I'll never say that I'm completely against foreign aid."

To my way of thinking, that is the basis on which our foreign aid program must be built.

It gave me great pleasure, therefore, when the administration announced recently that about 15 shiploads of American farm surpluses had been sent to five nations which suffered severe hardships during Europe's unusual cold spell last winter.

Help At Home

In making such donations, the government is not forgetting the needy within its own family.

Food is being distributed to eligible persons within our borders at a record rate, which is apparent from new figures released by the Department of Agriculture.

The department reported that food donations to school children, needy persons and others in this county amounted to about 559,900,000 pounds during the first nine months of the present fiscal year, representing an increase of 65 per cent.

That is the kind of aid that does the most good, I think, whether it is used to alleviate the hunger pangs of people here or abroad.

You can be sure that I will continue to give my wholehearted support to such programs.

Here's a hearty main dish to make with ground beef and versatile white rice. It's quick, too! Mix together 1 pound ground beef, ⅔ cup uncooked white rice, 1 cup diced celery, ½ cup diced onion, ½ cup diced green pepper, 1 No. 303 can of tomatoes, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon steak sauce and 2 cups water. Place in an oven dish and bake in a 350°F. oven for 1½ hours or until the rice is tender and most of the liquid is absorbed.

The dirt which was excavated when the Panama canal was dug was used to fill in swamps and for the Gatun dam. It also was used in building a causeway at the Pacific end.

Strawberry Chiffon Flake Pie

April is the month breakfast cereal and dairy industries sponsor the Third Annual Spring Cereal and Milk Festival to promote the food value of cereal and milk. Few foods can equal the nutritional contribution of the cereal and milk serving at such low cost.

Rarely is so much nutritional goodness, taste appeal, and glamour so readily available to the homemaker. Strawberry Chiffon Pie with Cereal Flake Crust is easy to make. The directions are carefully explained in the recipe below. This pie is only one of the many ways of combining cereal and milk in food preparation. You never outgrow your need for cereal and milk.

Strawberry Chiffon Pie With Cereal Flake Crust

Cereal Flake Crust

4 cups whole wheat flakes
5 tablespoons sugar
½ cup melted butter or margarine

Crush whole wheat flakes very fine. Add sugar. Mix in melted butter or margarine thoroughly. Press mixture evenly into 9-inch pie pan, making the bottom slightly thicker than the sides. Chill thoroughly before adding filling. Yield: One 9-inch pie shell.

Chiffon Filling

1 envelope plain gelatin
¼ cup water
1¾ cups milk
1 package vanilla pudding mix
2 eggs, separated
¼ cup sugar

Combine gelatin and ¼ cup water. Let stand 5 minutes. Add milk to pudding mix. Blend. Cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Beat egg yolks. Mix ¼ cup hot pudding mix into egg yolks. Return to pudding mixture, blend. Cook over low heat 1 additional minute. Add softened gelatin; stir until dissolved. Cool until mixture sets around edge of pan. Whip egg whites to soft peak. Add sugar, 2 tablespoons at a time, beating well after each addition. Whip cooled pudding until smooth. Fold egg whites into pudding mixture. Pour filling into pie shell. Chill until firm. Cover with strawberry topping. Yield: Filling for one 9-inch pie shell.

Strawberry Topping

Add 1 cup fresh strawberry halves to 1 cup of strawberry flavored gelatin, chilled to sirupy consistency. Pour over cooled pie. Chill until firm, garnish top, if desired, with whipped cream and sliced berries.

Fare For Hungry Folks

Leftovers can be attractive and good. Just you try them and see. It's recipes like this mayonnaise meat loaf that put the sparkle and life back into meals when you know leftovers are being served.

Serve this hearty meat standby, potato chips, lemon buttered broccoli, hot rolls or biscuits and for the finale — nothing could be better and more appealing than a luscious cake handsomely topped with orange frosting.

Mayonnaise Meat Loaf

- 3 cups diced cooked veal
- 3 tablespoons gelatin
- 3 tablespoons water
- 1¼ cups hot meat stock
- ½ cup diced celery
- ½ cup stuffed olives, sliced
- 1 cup peas, cooked
- 3 hard-cooked eggs, diced
- 2 tablespoons capers
- 1 cup mayonnaise

Soak the gelatin in water and dissolve it in meat stock. Cool. Add remaining ingredients to the diced veal. When the gelatin mixture begins to congeal combine it with the meat mixtuure and pour it into a 5x9-inch loaf pan. Place it in the refrigerator and allow it to stand until very firm. Yield: 10 to 12 servings.

Don't let the man of the house be the only one in the family to show that old American pioneer spirit . . . for you, too, can "make it yourself!"

Coconut Filbert Coffee Ring

- 1/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1/4 cup chopped filbert meats
- 1/2 cup tender-thin flaked coconut
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 2-1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/3 cup granulated sugar
- 1/3 cup shortening
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1/3 cup milk
- 3 tablespoons butter, melted
- 1/4 cup tender-thin flaked coconut, toasted

Combine brown sugar, nuts, and 1/2 cup coconut; mix thoroughly. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and granulated sugar, and sift again. Cut in shortening. Combine egg and milk. Add to flour mixture and stir until soft dough is formed. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 30 seconds. Roll in 18x9-inch rectangle. Brush with some of the melted butter, reserving a small amount. Spread with coconut mixture and roll as for jelly roll, wetting edges to seal. Bring ends together to form ring and place on ungreased baking sheet. With scissors, cut 1-inch slices almost through ring, turning each slice cut-side up and pointing outer edges. Brush with remaining melted butter.

Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Remove to cake rack and, while hot, dribble with glaze made by combining 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar and 1 tablespoon hot water. Sprinkle with the toasted coconut. Makes 8 servings.

Fare For Hungry Folks

Leftovers can be attractive and good. Just you try them and see. It's recipes like this mayonnaise meat loaf that put the sparkle and life back into meals when you know leftovers are being served.

Serve this hearty meat standby, potato chips, lemon buttered broccoli, hot rolls or biscuits and for the finale — nothing could be better and more appealing than a luscious cake handsomely topped with orange frosting.

Mayonnaise Meat Loaf

3 cups diced cooked veal
3 tablespoons gelatin
3 tablespoons water
1¼ cups hot meat stock
½ cup diced celery
½ cup stuffed olives, sliced
1 cup peas, cooked
3 hard-cooked eggs, diced
2 tablespoons capers
1 cup mayonnaise

Soak the gelatin in water and dissolve it in meat stock. Cool. Add remaining ingredients to the diced veal. When the gelatin mixture begins to congeal combine it with the meat mixtuure and pour it into a 5x9-inch loaf pan. Place it in the refrigerator and allow it to stand until very firm. Yield: 10 to 12 servings.

Don't let the man of the house be the only one in the family to show that old American pioneer spirit . . . for you, too, can "make it yourself!"

Coconut Filbert Coffee Ring

1/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1/4 cup chopped filbert meats
1/2 cup tender-thin flaked coconut
2 cups sifted flour
2-1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/3 cup granulated sugar
1/3 cup shortening
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/3 cup milk
3 tablespoons butter, melted
1/4 cup tender-thin flaked coconut, toasted

Combine brown sugar, nuts, and 1/2 cup coconut; mix thoroughly. Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and granulated sugar, and sift again. Cut in shortening. Combine egg and milk. Add to flour mixture and stir until soft dough is formed. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead 30 seconds. Roll in 18x9-inch rectangle. Brush with some of the melted butter, reserving a small amount. Spread with coconut mixture and roll as for jelly roll, wetting edges to seal. Bring ends together to form ring and place on ungreased baking sheet. With scissors, cut 1-inch slices almost through ring, turning each slice cut-side up and pointing outer edges. Brush with remaining melted butter.

Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Remove to cake rack and, while hot, dribble with glaze made by combining 1/2 cup confectioners' sugar and 1 tablespoon hot water. Sprinkle with the toasted coconut. Makes 8 servings.

1 cup canned tomatoes
1 egg, slightly beaten

Few grains pepper
½ teaspoon chili powder
1 cup buttered bread crumbs or cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons butter

Melt butter in saucepan; add bread crumbs and stir to coat with butter. Combine all other ingredients with ½ the bread crumbs. Turn into greased casserole; sprinkle with remaining crumbs. Bake at 350° for about 40 minutes. Serves 4-6.

Chuck Stobbs Tames Yanks, Nats Win, 7-3

McDermott Loser, Fitzgerald, Lemon Clout Home Runs

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) — Jim Lemon and Ed Fitzgerald crashed home runs and each chipped in with two other hits today as Washington trounced the New York Yankees 7-3. Chuck Stobbs held the Yankees to seven hits, including a home run and two singles by Elston Howard.

It was Washington's first victory of the season, after dropping two to the Yankees. They scored it over their former teammate, Maury McDermott, traded to New York during the off-season.

McDermott was nicked for two runs in the first inning when Roy Sievers singled across Ed Yost and Dick Tettelbach.

Washington grabbed a 4-0 lead in the fourth on solo homers by Lemon and Fitzgerald. Lemon added a double and a single, while Fitzgerald contributed two singles in addition to his homer.

Pinch-hitter Lou Skizas singled across a run in the fifth for the Yankees after Howard singled and Adny Carey doubled. Carey then scored as Hank Bauer hit into a double play.

Washington came back with three runs in the fifth off Tommy Byrne. A walk to Ed Yost, Karl Olson's single and Lemon's ground rule double fetched the Senators a run. Two more scored when Hank Bauer dropped Jerry Snyder's fly to right.

Pale Hose Beat Herb Score, 1-0

Harshman Is Victor On Doby's Sacrifice

CHICAGO, April 19 (AP) — Chicago's Jack Harshman and Cleveland's Herb Score matched two-hit mound performances today, but the White Sox pried a hitless run in the seventh on Larry Doby's sacrifice fly for a 1-0 victory.

Score, rookie of the American League last season with a 16-10 record, hurled hitless ball until the eighth when big Walt Dropo led off with a single and speedy Luis Aparacio beat out a hit to his White Sox predecessor at short, Chico Carrasquel.

Kline Hurls Pittsburgh To 3-2 Win Over Giants

Ward And Thomas Get Timely Blows

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—Preston Ward's pinch-hit, two-run single in the seventh inning today set off a Pittsburgh rally which halted the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds 3-2.

The Giants tried to pull another game out of the fire—as they did in the previous two games—but failed despite a ninth inning home run by Daryl Spencer.

With Pittsburgh trailing 1-0, Ward came to bat for Bobby Del Greco in the seventh and smashed a single off the glove of first-baseman Gail Harris. Frank Thomas and Gene Freese, who had put together back-to-back singles and advanced on a sacrifice, romped home with the runs that put the Pirates ahead.

Thomas brought home what proved to be the deciding run in the eighth inning with a single which scored Roberto Clemente.

A crowd of 1,922 sat through cool, footballish weather to watch.

Finnish Runner Cops Marathon

Viskari Sets New Record At Boston

BOSTON, April 19 (AP) — Antti Viskari, the forgotten Finnish army sergeant, passed America's Johnny Kelley in the hills and held him off the final three miles today to fashion the fastest marathon ever run—2:14:14—in the 60th Boston A.A. classic.

McDermott Loser, Fitzgerald, Lemon Clout Home Runs

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP) — Jim Lemon and Ed Fitzgerald crashed home runs and each chipped in with two other hits today as Washington trounced the New York Yankees 7-3. Chuck Stobbs held the Yankees to seven hits, including a home run and two singles by Elston Howard.

It was Washington's first victory of the season, after dropping two to the Yankees. They scored it over their former teammate, Maury McDermott, traded to New York during the off-season.

McDermott was nicked for two runs in the first inning when Roy Sievers singled across Ed Yost and Dick Tettelbach.

Washington grabbed a 4-0 lead in the fourth on solo homers by Lemon and Fitzgerald. Lemon added a double and a single, while Fitzgerald contributed two singles in addition to his homer.

Pinch-hitter Lou Skizas singled across a run in the fifth for the Yankees after Howard singled and Adny Carey doubled. Carey then scored as Hank Bauer hit into a double play.

Washington came back with three runs in the fifth off Tommy Byrne. A walk to Ed Yost, Karl Olson's single and Lemon's ground rule double fetched the Senators a run. Two more scored when Hank Bauer dropped Jerry Snyder's fly to right.

Harshman Is Victor On Doby's Sacrifice

CHICAGO, April 19 (AP) — Chicago's Jack Harshman and Cleveland's Herb Score matched two-hit mound performances today, but the White Sox pried a hitless run in the seventh on Larry Doby's sacrifice fly for a 1-0 victory.

Score, rookie of the American League last season with a 16-10 record, hurled hitless ball until the eighth when big Walt Dropo led off with a single and speedy Luis Aparacio beat out a hit to his White Sox predecessor at short, Chico Carrasquel.

But the 22-year-old Score caused his own downfall in the seventh when he walked Minnie Minoso and cut loose with a two-base wild pitch.

Kline Hurls Pittsburgh To 3-2 Win Over Giants

Ward And Thomas Get Timely Blows

NEW YORK, April 19 (AP)—Preston Ward's pinch-hit, two-run single in the seventh inning today set off a Pittsburgh rally which halted the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds 3-2.

The Giants tried to pull another game out of the fire—as they did in the previous two games—but failed despite a ninth inning home run by Daryl Spencer.

With Pittsburgh trailing 1-0, Ward came to bat for Bobby Del Greco in the seventh and smashed a single off the glove of first-baseman Gail Harris. Frank Thomas and Gene Freese, who had put together back-to-back singles and advanced on a sacrifice, romped home with the runs that put the Pirates ahead.

Thomas brought home what proved to be the deciding run in the eighth inning with a single which scored Roberto Clemente.

A crowd of 1,922 sat through cool, footballish weather to watch.

Finnish Runner Cops Marathon

Viskari Sets New Record At Boston

BOSTON, April 19 (AP) — Antti Viskari, the forgotten Finnish army sergeant, passed America's Johnny Kelley in the hills and held him off the final three miles today to fashion the fastest marathon ever run—2:14:14—in the 60th Boston A.A. classic.

The pulsating struggle, finished with the first four runners—aided by a tailwind—bettering last year's BAA mark of 2:18.22 by Japan's Hideo Hamammura.

Shantz Beats Detroit, 4-1

DETROIT, April 19 (AP)—Southpaw Bobby Shantz set down the Detroit Tigers on five hits as the Kansas City Athletics took a 4-1 victory in Briggs Stadium today.

In one of his rare returns to his old form, the little guy mowed down the Tigers in order in four innings and faced more than four men only in the ninth.

Red Sox Down Baltimore, 4-2

BOSTON, April 19 (AP)—Warming up for a weekend series against the New York Yankees, the Boston Red Sox whipped the Baltimore Orioles 4-2 today on a two-hitter by Tom Brewer.

A Patriots' Day throng of 23,962 saw the winning Boston runs scamper across in the fifth on a double by Mickey Vernon, newcomer to the Sox but a veteran of years in the American League. Dave Pope lost the ball in the sun.

The victory was Boston's third in as many starts of this young season and the loss was the third in as many games for the Orioles.

Post's Hit In 10th Sinks Cards, 10-9

CINCINNATI, April 19 (AP)—Wally Post, who had homered earlier, gave the Cincinnati Redlegs a 10-9 victory today over the St. Louis Cardinals in 10 innings when he singled to center with the bases full. Each team had four home runs in the free-hitting contest.

Ellis Kinder, who saved the opener for St. Louis on Tuesday by striking out Post, couldn't make it today. He was called to the mound in the 10th, replacing Jackie Collum with two out and the bases filled.

DETROIT, April 19 (AP)—Southpaw Bobby Shantz set down the Detroit Tigers on five hits as the Kansas City Athletics took a 4-1 victory in Briggs Stadium today.

Post's Hit In 10th Sinks Cards, 10-9

CINCINNATI, April 19 (AP)—Wally Post, who had homered earlier, gave the Cincinnati Redlegs a 10-9 victory today over the St. Louis Cardinals in 10 innings when he singled to center with the bases full. Each team had four home runs in the free-hitting contest.

Ellis Kinder, who saved the opener for St. Louis on Tuesday by striking out Post, couldn't make it today. He was called to the mound in the 10th, replacing Jackie Collum with two out and the bases filled.

LaSalle Faces Allegany High Tossers Today

Sentinels To Host Mt. Savage; Keyser Plays In Oakland

Allegany High School's Campers will test LaSalle High School's Explorers in the main attraction in the Bi-State Conference today.

Coach George Geatz's LaSalle tossers now lead the Bi-State Conference with a 3-0 record and they're 1-0 in the city race virtue of a 2-1 decision over Fort Hill's Sentinels.

Coach Gene Shaw's Campers will be playing their first intracity contest of the season today. Allegany owns a 2-1 record in the Bi-State Conference.

Arthur Washington or Lefty Don Paye is expected to get the pitching assignment for AHS while Lefty Bill Roberts looms as LaSalle's starting hurler.

Roberts won over Allegany twice last season by scores of 16-2 and 6-1, beating Don Paye in both contests.

Fort Hill (2-1) will host the Mt. Savage Indians (2-1) at Fort Hill Field at 3:30 and Hyndman High's Hornets (0-2) will cross bats with the Bruce Bulldogs at Westernport at 3:30 in other Bi-State contests scheduled today.

Keyser At Oakland

The top attraction in the Potomac Valley Conference today is the Keyser-Southern game in Oakland. Keyser heads the procession with a 5-0 record and the Garrett Countians are right in the thick of the fight with a 3-1 mark. Bill Roy who has posted three wins in as many starts for Keyser is expected to work on the firing line for Coach "Tack" Clark's team today. Coach Carlton Hogue will rely on either Toby Colaw (2-0) or Fred Colaw (0-1). Roy gained an 8-3 decision over Fred Colaw in the opening game of the series.

Pirates Host Warriors

Wardensville steps out of the conference today to engage Paw Paw High's Pirates at the latter place.

Coach Ralph Swauger's Northern High Huskies of Garrett county will open a 10-game schedule today by playing host to the Alumni. Northern is a member of the Somerset County High School League. The Huskies' only games with a Maryland high school are with Southern of Oakland May 22 and 29.

Orioles Play Nats

BALTIMORE, April 19 (AP)—The two teams picked by the experts as the most likely contenders for the American League cellar, the Baltimore Orioles and Washington Senators, square off for their first series of 1956 tomorrow afternoon (2 p.m. EST).

Purple Heart Leads K. Of C. By 12 Points In Shuffle Playoff

The Purple Heart Club took a 12-point lead in the playoff for the championship of the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League by defeating the Cumberland Knights of Columbus last night, 73 to 61, in the first three games of their six-game series.

The last three games of the series will be staged Monday at 8:30 p. m. at the K. of C. Home.

Unlike the Atlantic salmon, which enters the fresh-water streams to spawn and then returns to the sea, the Pacific species spawn in fresh water and then die.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 19 (INS)—Marlon Brando will receive a surprise visit from Don Hartman in Japan. Don is going to do everything he can to persuade Marlon to co-star with Sophia Loren in "Desire Under the Elms," and rather than trust to cables and telephones, after he sees Sophia in Spain, he'll head straight for Japan and Marlon.

Before Don flew out for Europe he signed Delbert Mann, Academy Award winner for best direction of "Marty," to direct the famous Eugene O'Neill play, which will be the first, as far as he knows now, of three top pictures for Paramount.

While Sir Laurence Olivier was in this country he extended Susan Strasberg an invitation to do a stage play in London with him and Vivien Leigh. The little Strasberg girl was so flattered and so pleased that she wants to leave "The Diary of Anne Frank" on Broadway and accept Larry's invitation.

Meanwhile, Marilyn Monroe is still in the hospital and will be until the end of the week, which, of course, has held up "Bus Stop" and may hold up her departure for London for "The Sleeping Prince" with Laurence Olivier.

I had to laugh at Dan Dailey spouting off about never getting a western. "I suppose I don't ride well enough," he grinned. "I've won over a hundred prizes and blue ribbons for riding.

"I suppose I'm not tall enough," he went on slightly sarcastically, "I'm just six-feet-four inches. Or thin enough — I'm the thinnest man in Hollywood with the exception of Michael Rennie and Frank Sinatra."

Are you listenin', you producers of westerns? You can contact our boy Dan on the set of "The Best Things in Life Are Free" at 20th if you have a cowboy part for him.

Out of the blue, Anna Kashfi, the East Indian beauty, has declared a moratorium on all dates. The reason is that her boy friend, Franco Fatigatti, an Italian jet test pilot, arrives here from Rome to see her in June, and Anna wants no local romantic entanglements to stand in the way of her romance with the pilot.

When he arrives here it is possible that she'll announce her engagement. Her father, Dev Kashfi, an architect, gets here in early July to visit with her, and that would be a very good time for her to tell the world about her matrimonial plans.

Good for Tony Curtis' 15-year-old brother, Bobby. All on his own he's gone out and got himself the job of the office boy in "The Great Man" and he has three big sceens with Jose Ferrer.

And just so it won't seem like he's trading on Tony's fame, Bobby has taken the name of Robert Reed in honor of his favorite TV star, Reed Hadley.

Just about this time last year Bobby — pardon me, Robert, was up for a role in Tony's "Six Bridges to Cross" but he lost out to that very hot teen-age newcomer Sal Mineo. I'd like to add my personal good wishes for Robert to do as well in his career as Sal.

Bob Taylor and Ursula Thiess will testify that Lex Barker is a good cook. He prepared spaghetti for them and Lana.

Lana's mother, Mrs. Mildred Turner, who has been working at gifts for men as receptionist, suffered a bad sacroilliac, and Lana took her to the MGM doctor for treatment.

Whispers are that Giselle McKenzie is a possible replacement for Nanette Fabray on the Sid Caesar show.

The MGM gang plan to paper Morgan Hudgins office with all the press notices he's received since he accompanied Grace Kelly to the wedding. After being told by the prince that he was an official guest and must not represent Grace's studio, he was called in by Rainier to settle the battle with the reporters.

Havis Davenport, ex-girl friend of Frank Sinatra and Gary Crosby, pleasantly dining with Jordan Freedman, Salt Lake business man, at Sportsman's Lodge.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Senate Confirms Doub Position

The U. S. Senate yesterday confirmed the nomination of George Cochran Doub of Owings Mills to be an assistant U. S. attorney general.

Doub, son of the late Circuit Court Judge A. A. Doub, and a brother of Albert A. Doub, local attorney, will be in charge of civil litigation in the Justice Department.

He has been U. S. attorney for the Maryland district since the fall of 1953.

Paul M. Fletcher, Allegany County state's attorney, has been offered the appointment to the Maryland position held by Doub. Fletcher said yesterday he will make a decision in the next few days.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 19 (INS)—Marlon Brando will receive a surprise visit from Don Hartman in Japan. Don is going to do everything he can to persuade Marlon to co-star with Sophia Loren in "Desire Under the Elms," and rather than trust to cables and telephones, after he sees Sophia in Spain, he'll head straight for Japan and Marlon.

Before Don flew out for Europe he signed Delbert Mann, Academy Award winner for best direction of "Marty," to direct the famous Eugene O'Neill play, which will be the first, as far as he knows now, of three top pictures for Paramount.

While Sir Laurence Olivier was in this country he extended Susan Strasberg an invitation to do a stage play in London with him and Vivien Leigh. The little Strasberg girl was so flattered and so pleased that she wants to leave "The Diary of Anne Frank" on Broadway and accept Larry's invitation.

Meanwhile, Marilyn Monroe is still in the hospital and will be until the end of the week, which, of course, has held up "Bus Stop" and may hold up her departure for London for "The Sleeping Prince" with Laurence Olivier.

I had to laugh at Dan Dailey spouting off about never getting a western. "I suppose I don't ride well enough," he grinned. "I've won over a hundred prizes and blue ribbons for riding.

"I suppose I'm not tall enough," he went on slightly sarcastically, "I'm just six-feet-four inches. Or thin enough — I'm the thinnest man in Hollywood with the exception of Michael Rennie and Frank Sinatra."

Are you listenin', you producers of westerns? You can contact our boy Dan on the set of "The Best Things in Life Are Free" at 20th if you have a cowboy part for him.

Out of the blue, Anna Kashfi, the East Indian beauty, has declared a moratorium on all dates. The reason is that her boy friend, Franco Fatigatti, an Italian jet test pilot, arrives here from Rome to see her in June, and Anna wants no local romantic entanglements to stand in the way of her romance with the pilot.

When he arrives here it is possible that she'll announce her engagement. Her father, Dev Kashfi, an architect, gets here in early July to visit with her, and that would be a very good time for her to tell the world about her matrimonial plans.

Good for Tony Curtis' 15-year-old brother, Bobby. All on his own he's gone out and got himself the job of the office boy in "The Great Man" and he has three big sceens with Jose Ferrer.

And just so it won't seem like he's trading on Tony's fame, Bobby has taken the name of Robert Reed in honor of his favorite TV star, Reed Hadley.

Just about this time last year Bobby — pardon me, Robert, was up for a role in Tony's "Six Bridges to Cross" but he lost out to that very hot teen-age newcomer Sal Mineo. I'd like to add my personal good wishes for Robert to do as well in his career as Sal.

Bob Taylor and Ursula Thiess will testify that Lex Barker is a good cook. He prepared spaghetti for them and Lana.

Lana's mother, Mrs. Mildred Turner, who has been working at gifts for men as receptionist, suffered a bad sacroilliac, and Lana took her to the MGM doctor for treatment.

Whispers are that Giselle McKenzie is a possible replacement for Nanette Fabray on the Sid Caesar show.

The MGM gang plan to paper Morgan Hudgins office with all the press notices he's received since he accompanied Grace Kelly to the wedding. After being told by the prince that he was an official guest and must not represent Grace's studio, he was called in by Rainier to settle the battle with the reporters.

Havis Davenport, ex-girl friend of Frank Sinatra and Gary Crosby, pleasantly dining with Jordan Freedman, Salt Lake business man, at Sportsman's Lodge.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"I'm certainly not going to let a little headache keep me from the party!"

Daily Bridge Lesson

REVEALING YOUR DIFFICULTY

MANY a squeeze play owes its success to the fact that a defender squirms, mumbles or otherwise reveals that he is having great difficulty in discarding. Here's an example:

West dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

	♠ Q 3 2 ♥ 4 2 ♦ A Q 8 6 3 ♣ 9 5 4
♠ — ♥ A Q J 10 9 7 5 3 ♦ J 10 9 4 ♣ 3	N W E S	♠ 10 9 6 ♥ K 6 ♦ K 7 2 ♣ J 10 8 7 2
	♠ A K J 8 7 5 4 ♥ 8 ♦ 5 ♣ A K Q 6

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
4 ♥	Pass	Pass	4 ♠
5 ♥	5 ♠	Pass	6 ♠
Pass	Pass	Pass

West laid down the heart ace and continued the suit in the hope that East would ruff, but it was South who had the singleton heart. After ruffing, South drew the necessary three rounds of trumps, then tested the club suit, leading the ace and king. When West showed out, South resumed his trump leading.

East was comfortable enough on the fourth and fifth rounds of trumps—he discarded his minor-suit deuces—but when South put down the last trump, keeping the A-Q of diamonds and one club in dummy, East plainly revealed that he was in dire distress. He pulled out the diamond seven, put it back; pulled out a club, and put that back. When he finally tossed the diamond seven on the table, only a blind man in South's position could have been in any doubt over what ailed his RHO, and South deserved very little credit for leading his singleton diamond to the ace and dropping East's blank king.

As the play went, East should have blanked his diamond king with an air of complete imperturbability, and then South would have had quite a guess, whether to finesse for the diamond king or play for the squeeze on East.

South made a mistake too when he needlessly revealed his distribution. If he had not touched the club suit until he had run off every trump, East's problem would have been far more difficult.

Hoopengardner May Get Post

Wilbur Hoopengardner, a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College, is expected to be named to succeed W. Stewart Fitzgerald as superintendent of Caroline County schools, it was learned yesterday.

Fitzgerald, veteran educator who announced his retirement plans yesterday, said the Caroline County school board is expected to name Hoopengardner at its May 1 meeting. Hoopengardner is the director of instruction in Washington County schools.

The resignation of Fitzgerald will become effective August 1.

Two Area Streams Will Be Stocked

Two streams, Evitts Creek and Flintstone Creek will each be stocked with 500 adult rainbow trout late this afternoon, according to Sigurd Brantingsen, regional fish culturist for the State Game and Inland Fish Commission.

Sigurd said the anglers have not been having too much luck so far, but the additional stocking of trout may help the situation. The second stocking of trout does not usually take place until later on in the season, he added.

Hoopengardner May Get Post

Wilbur Hoopengardner, a graduate of Frostburg State Teachers College, is expected to be named to succeed W. Stewart Fitzgerald as superintendent of Caroline County schools, it was learned yesterday.

Fitzgerald, veteran educator who announced his retirement plans yesterday, said the Caroline County school board is expected to name Hoopengardner at its May 1 meeting. Hoopengardner is the director of instruction in Washington County schools.

The resignation of Fitzgerald will become effective August 1.

Two Area Streams Will Be Stocked

Two streams, Evitts Creek and Flintstone Creek will each be stocked with 500 adult rainbow trout late this afternoon, according to Sigurd Brantingsen, regional fish culturist for the State Game and Inland Fish Commission.

Sigurd said the anglers have not been having too much luck so far, but the additional stocking of trout may help the situation. The second stocking of trout does not usually take place until later on in the season, he added.

Four Bridges Included In Channel Job

Will Keep Vehicle, Rail Traffic Moving

Provisions have been made by the City of Cumberland and the Corps of Engineers for maintaining traffic—motor vehicle, pedestrian and railway—during the construction of Section 4 of the Wills Creek Channel phase of the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection project.

To keep this traffic in motion, provisions have been placed in the plans for the construction of temporary bridges, both traffic and railway, until existing spans are removed and new permanent spans are erected and placed in operation.

The temporary traffic span will be a timber bent bridge located just downstream of the present Baltimore Street Bridge of the city.

Will Swing Left

This wooden bridge will have a roadway for two-way traffic and will be equipped with a five-foot sidewalk located on the downstream side, according to C. R. Nuzum, city engineer.

To drive upon the temporary bridge, traffic moving from Baltimore Street to the Dingle will swing left, cross the Western Maryland Railway tracks where the present watchman's box is located, and drive upon the span.

The bridge will be located downstream and parallel to the present reinforced concrete span and will end at the city park area on Greene Street.

As soon as the bridge is opened for traffic, the contractor can begin demolishing the present bridge and start construction on the new Baltimore Street Bridge, which is being included in the Section 4 contract at the request of the city.

Ramps To Be Built

The new Baltimore Street Bridge will be single-span and of composite I-beam construction similiar to the new Valley and Market Street bridges, and will be located on the same line as the present span.

It will have a wider roadway, 42 instead of 33 feet, to allow a uniform width along Baltimore Street.

Eight-foot sidewalks will be provided on either side. This is one foot narrower than is provided on the present span.

To provide an approach to the temporary traffic bridge, a temporary fill will be placed at the intersection of Baltimore and Canal streets, and a temporary ramp will be built on Canal Street so traffic can enter and leave the street.

One Long Pier

The new Western Maryland Railway bridge at Baltimore Street is to be built on the same location as the present span and is designed to allow a maximum flow in the

A tractor and scraper or carryall being used by the Bero Construction Company, Hampton, Va., in the construction of new U. S. Route 40 on the east side of Martin Mountain plunged over a 50-foot bank into an old stone quarry late yesterday afternoon after the driver was tossed out when the tractor struck a tree stump.

The operator, Morris Lynch, about 40, of Roanoke Rapids, N. C., was unhurt except for a minor pain in his shoulder.

J. E. Wagoner of Germanton, N. C., superintendent on the construction job which was started April 3, said the piece of earth-moving machinery costing about $45,000 had been in operation only about two weeks. It was demolished in the plunge into the quarry.

Although the loss is covered by insurance, the construction will be delayed until a new carryall can be obtained.

The equipment was being used to remove roots and other debris from the right-of-way of the new road which will be above the present road. The tractor jolted when it struck a stump and the jolt tossed Lynch out. He was unhurt.

The motor in the equipment still was running when Wagoner arrived in the quarry just off present U. S. Route 40.

Burke To Be Speaker At Bank Convention

Edmund S. Burke, president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company and director of the Liberty Trust Company, will take part in a panel discussion during the 60th annual convention of the Maryland Bankers Association in Atlantic City May 12-15.

With other prominent Maryland business men, he will discuss Maryland industry as it relates to banking.

Mayor To Check Authorities Who Oppose Fluorine

Mayor Roy W. Eves said yesterday he is following up the claims made in numerous pieces of printed matter being circulated here in opposition to the plan for fluoridating the city's water supply.

He added he will investigate the right of the authorities quoted to "sit in judgment" on the plan which was approved by a resolution of the Mayor and Council four years ago upon the recommendation of the City Board of Health and the dental and medical profession of the city.

"Just as we consider in making our decisions the judgment of people we know," he added, "we will have to look into the authority of those whom we do not know."

"Nothing will be done," he pledged, "until we have weighed all the facts."

Among the groups who have endorsed fluoridation as an extremely valuable and completely safe public health practice, he said, are:

The American Dental Association, the American Medical Association, American Association of Public Health Dentists, American Public Health Association, National Research Council and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

It is also endorsed by the dental associations of every state, including Maryland, he said, the Maryland State Board of Health and every component dental society in Maryland, including the Allegany-Garrett Dental Society.

The literature, he said, is being "checked by authors" since the city must look into the right of the authorities quoted to have judgments on such a technical matter.

Fluoridation was authorized as a public health measure for reducing tooth decay by a resolution of the Mayor and Council on December 8, 1952.

Facts On Fluorides—1

Results Of Flouridation Trials Are Impressive

(Editor's note: For more than a decade, communties have been fluoridating their water supplies to reduce the rate of dental decay. Is it effective? Is it safe? Why have some cities rejected it? In order to clarify these and other questions about fluoridation, The Cumberland News today begins a series of authoritative articles discussing all phases of this public health measure. The series is presented in cooperation with the Allegany-Garrett Dental Society.)

One of them, Newburgh, added an ounce of fluoride, a white crystalline salt, to every 3,125 gallons of drinking water.

The other, Kingston, added no fluoride. It served as a "control" for comparison to learn if the chemical would aid in reducing tooth decay in children.

Before the experiment, thousands of children in each community were given, in addition to dental examinations, searching examinations of blood, bones, tissues and organs in order to provide a base line.

"Irrefutable Evidence"

The 10-year results provide "irrefutable evidence" that fluoridation of drinking water is safe and effective, says Dr. Herman E. Hilleboe, New York State health commissioner.

The children in Newburgh were found to have an overall reduction in tooth decay of 58 per cent as compared with the children in Kingston.

Results began to show early in the experiment. Dr. William A. Brumfield Jr., of the State University of New York points out that it looked for a while as if the study would break down because the citizens of Kingston, noting the rapid drop in dental decay among Newburgh children, began talking of starting fluoridation, too.

This actually occurred in Michigan where a similar controlled study involved Grand Rapids and Muskegon began a few months before the New York undertaking. In July 1951, Muskegon decided it would no longer serve as a control and began fluoridation. Grand Rapids continued fluoridation, however, with excellent results.

Big Reductions Noted

During the 6½ years of comparison, Muskegon residents had observed a drop in dental decay among the neighboring Grand Rapids children varying from 66 per cent in 6-year-olds to 18 per cent in 16-year-olds. The evidence began accumulating so early in both the New York and Michigan studies, that a number of other communities started fluoridation promptly. None has regretted it.

In Brantford, Ontario, where fluoridation was started in June, 1945, there has been a reduction in rate of decay of 63 per cent in 6-year-olds; Madison, Wis., starting in 1948, and Marshall, Tex., starting in 1946, have the same drop. Lewiston, Idaho, starting in 1947, has a 46 per cent decrease in decay of permanent teeth of 9-year-olds. In Evanston, Ill., where fluoridation started in 1948, the number of 12- to 14-year-old children whose teeth were entirely free of decay increased 73 per cent.

Today, more than 22 million people in 1,100 communities are drinking water with fluorides added to bring the level to the recommended proportion of one part per million.

Driver Unhurt When Runaway Truck Crashes

A Cincinnati-to-Baltimore bound tractor-trailer truck got out of control while descending the east side of Allegheny Front on U. S. Route 50 in Mineral County, W. Va., upset along the berm of the road and burned but the driver and his younger brother suffered only minor lacerations.

West Virginia State Tropper Charles Oliver said that Leo Hogue, 28, of New Milford, Ohio, was driving the truck owned by Continental Freight Lines, Pittsburgh, Pa., when it crashed about 11:45 a. m. yesterday. Clarence Hogue, 25, also of New Milford, was riding with his brother.

Trooper Oliver said the driver told him the motor on the Diesel-powered truck quit just after he passed another truck while descending Allegheny Front. With the power off the brakes did not hold and the truck ran out of control.

The truck caught fire after passersby had helped the Hogue brothers from the cab. The crash and fire ruined the truck and its load which included formica, soap and valves and Oliver estimated the loss at between $9,000 and $10,000.

Leo Hogue was charged with hazardous driving. He pleaded guilty before Magistrate Madalyn Bazzle and was fined a total of $15.50 including court costs. Neither of the brothers needed the attention of a physician.

Figures Differ On Gas Firm's Revenue Needs

West Virginia PSC Recesses Hearings

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 19 (AP)—Figures before the Public Service Commission today regarding additional annual income Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co. needs for a reasonable return ranged from $174,600 to $765,000.

Heath's figure envisioned a 6¼ per cent return on the company's investment. C. and A. has contended it needs $765,000 more a year to assure a 6.52 per cent rate of return.

Lower Estimate

Consulting Engineer Harold J. Snyder of Keyser testified earlier an additional $174,600 would provide a 6 per cent return, and that $193,300 more in annual revenue would mean a 6¼ per cent return.

The proposed new C. and A. rate scale has been in effect for several months, under bond and subject to refund, in the nine central and eastern counties in which the utility has approximately 16,000 customers.

The June 4 hearing will be devoted largely to company cross-examination of Snyder, only witness for the protesting Intercommunity League of Central West Virginia; Heath, and PSC Engineer R. H. Lussky.

Heath's computations were based partly on a contention that C. and A. could, and should, have met natural gas demands on it with locally purchased supplies in the calendar 1954 test period on which the rate case is based.

He thus repriced to a 33.¼-cent cost of locally purchased gas, southwest supplies obtained by C. and A. from Atlantic Seaboard Corp. for a cost of service outlay of about 67 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. That adjustment amounted to about $46,500.

Paid Too Much

Contrary to Snyder's approach, the PSC staff exhibit made no adjustment in connection with a 1951 purchase by C. and A., for four million dollars, of a production field near Terra Alta in Preston County.

Snyder had called the purchase price "too high." He testified that gas formerly purchased from the field for 20 cents per 1,000 cubic feet now is costing C. and A. more than 38 cents, and he adjusted his cost of service computation to the 20-cent figure.

Snyder also had taken the position that C. and A. could meet demands on it with locally purchased gas, but adjusted the price paid Atlantic Seaboard to a 27-cent figure.

Like the company, the PSC staff apportioned the C. and A. cost of service for West Virginia customers on the basis of the utility's over-all production, transmission and distribution facilities.

Man Cleared In Murder

BOSTON, April 19 (AP)—A 27-year-old South Boston man questioned in the slaying of Robert H. Himmler, 34, of Cumberland, Md. was cleared today of any implication in the shooting of the radar engineer.

O'Meara viewed the questioned man in the police lineup today and said he was not the one who held him up. The man was held, however, on a non-support charge.

Tydings On Trip Through Arundel Co.

[By The Associated Press]

The plea for support from the two major candidates for Democratic nomination to the U. S. Senate was made last night on two widely separated fronts.

Former U. S. Sen. Millard E. Tydings campaigned in Anne Arundel County. Opponent George Mahoney flew into Cumberland from the Eastern Shore for a rally, in which he called for party unity.

Tydings is due to carry on his campaign in the Baltimore area today. Mahoney is scheduled to return by plane to Easton and a visit in that Eastern Shore area.

A rally at Churchton was told that nomination of William B. Prendergast as the Republican congressional candidate from the 5th District would be like electing "a Wayne Morse from Southern Maryland."

C. Maurice Weidemeyer made the statement. Weidemeyer is campaign treasurer for retired Navy Capt. Joseph K. Taussig Jr., Prendergast's opponent. Prendergast is a former professor of government at the Naval Academy, from which Taussig was graduated.

Weidemeyer said Prendergast switched from the Democrat to Republican party in 1952 when President Truman was completing his term of office.

Elks Meet Here Over Weekend

Delegates and their ladies attending the regional meeting of the Maryland-Delaware-District of Columbia Elks Association here Saturday and Sunday will find a number of the area's top entertainers on hand during some of the social events, Harry S. Tracy, general chairman, said yesterday.

These will include the Beckward twins, dancers; Rosalie Femi, vocalist; Joy T. Oliver and Virginia Hendrix, a dance team; Marshall Caton, vocalist; Janet Myerly, specialty dancer; A. M. Widener, comedy sketch with girls; Henry Herold, drum novelty, and the Mackert sisters.

Music will be furnished by the Peck Mills combo and Tommy Smithem's orchestra.

Cumberland Lodge 63 is host to the meeting at which 300 to 400 delegates are expected from the 17 member lodges. Registration will open at 1 p. m. followed by a musical matinee, cocktail party and general get-together. Trustees of the association will meet at 8 p. m. in the Rainbow Room. A dance is scheduled at 9:30 p. m. and a floor show at 11:15 p. m.

Festivities are for Elks and their ladies only, Tracy said.

Give Endorsement At Local Rally

Spokesmen for segments of organized labor last night voiced their support of George P. Mahoney for the United States Senate at a Mahoney for Senate rally in the Eagles Home.

John Kreitzburg, chairman of the political action committee of the Textile Workers Union, and Charles F. Davis, secretary of Local 1874, Textile Workers of America, spoke in behalf of Mahoney's campaign and urged his nomination and election.

Both men said they had attended a combined meeting of CIO and AFL leaders in Baltimore recently, where their political committee interviewed all the candidates for US Senate from Maryland, and checked their records.

Davis said, "there can be no question that labor must support and help elect Mahoney."

Kreitzburg declared, "Mahoney is interested in all the people and especially understands the problems of laboring and working people and the small business man and farmer."

Both men, presented to an audience of over 200 party workers and interested Democrats by Thomas B. Finan, County Democratic Committee chairman, pledged their support and said labor is being urged to vote and work for Mahoney.

After coming here by plane last evening from Kent County, Mahoney addressed the audience as a "candidate who is campaigning not in name only as a Democrat, but a Democrat proud of the record of our party."

Cites 'Political Cold War'

He declared, "for some time now, we Democrats have been losing a propaganda battle . . . a sort of cold war . . . to the Republicans.

"These Republicans have cried so loudly and so long about these terrible, socialistic Democratic programs and policies that many Democrats have acted as if being a real, honest-to-goodness Democrat was something to be ashamed of.

"But we Democrats have nothing to apologize for. If there was any truth in the wild charges the Republicans have made, how is it that after nearly four years of a Republican administration, the suggestion has never been made to repeal a single piece of major so-called New Deal legislation?

"Going farther than that," he observed, "The Republicans have even now tried to take credit for these worthwhile and beneficial programs themselves. In January 1955, the White House issued the President's economic report, explaining why a full-scale depression had not developed following the business recession and some unemployment in 1953 and '54.

Mahoney contended the President himself, in this report, went on to list such things as Social Security, public works projects, insured bank deposits, and other facets of New Deal legislation "referring to them as a "fiscal system,' but the people of the country, a few years ago, knew these beneficial social reforms as the New Deal."

No Special Interests

The candidate told his audience that he wants to serve in the US Senate as a representative of all the people and not of any special interests. He said he wants to protect the social gains of the "little people." He said he wants to do something to help small business and the small farmer, and that he believes it is wrong in this country to foster legislative and administrative programs that give the major benefits to some 25 or fewer large corporations.

He spoke for lower taxes for the working man, a new look at shorter hours and shorter work-week plans already being talked about.

Finan introduced the members of the State Central Committee present and a number of other

The children in Newburgh were found to have an overall reduction in tooth decay of 58 per cent as compared with the children in Kingston.

Results began to show early in the experiment. Dr. William A. Brumfield Jr., of the State University of New York points out that it looked for a while as if the study would break down because the citizens of Kingston, noting the rapid drop in dental decay among Newburgh children, began talking of starting fluoridation, too.

This actually occurred in Michigan where a similar controlled study involved Grand Rapids and Muskegon began a few months before the New York undertaking. In July 1951, Muskegon decided it would no longer serve as a control and began fluoridation. Grand Rapids continued fluoridation, however, with excellent results.

Big Reductions Noted

During the 6½ years of comparison, Muskegon residents had observed a drop in dental decay among the neighboring Grand Rapids children varying from 66 per cent in 6-year-olds to 18 per cent in 16-year-olds. The evidence began accumulating so early in both the New York and Michigan studies, that a number of other communities started fluoridation promptly. None has regretted it.

In Brantford, Ontario, where fluoridation was started in June, 1945, there has been a reduction in rate of decay of 63 per cent in 6-year-olds; Madison, Wis., starting in 1948, and Marshall, Tex., starting in 1946, have the same drop. Lewiston, Idaho, starting in 1947, has a 46 per cent decrease in decay of permanent teeth of 9-year-olds. In Evanston, Ill., where fluoridation started in 1948, the number of 12- to 14-year-old children whose teeth were entirely free of decay increased 73 per cent.

Today, more than 22 million people in 1,100 communities are drinking water with fluorides added to bring the level to the recommended proportion of one part per million.

Driver Unhurt When Runaway Truck Crashes

A Cincinnati-to-Baltimore bound tractor-trailer truck got out of control while descending the east side of Allegheny Front on U. S. Route 50 in Mineral County, W. Va., upset along the berm of the road and burned but the driver and his younger brother suffered only minor lacerations.

West Virginia State Tropper Charles Oliver said that Leo Hogue, 28, of New Milford, Ohio, was driving the truck owned by Continental Freight Lines, Pittsburgh, Pa., when it crashed about 11:45 a. m. yesterday. Clarence Hogue, 25, also of New Milford, was riding with his brother.

Trooper Oliver said the driver told him the motor on the Diesel-powered truck quit just after he passed another truck while descending Allegheny Front. With the power off the brakes did not hold and the truck ran out of control.

The truck caught fire after passersby had helped the Hogue brothers from the cab. The crash and fire ruined the truck and its load which included formica, soap and valves and Oliver estimated the loss at between $9,000 and $10,000.

McCoole volunteer firemen responded and extinguished the flames. They remained on the scene in case the fire might be rekindled.

Leo Hogue was charged with hazardous driving. He pleaded guilty before Magistrate Madalyn Bazzle and was fined a total of $15.50 including court costs. Neither of the brothers needed the attention of a physician.

Figures Differ On Gas Firm's Revenue Needs

West Virginia PSC Recesses Hearings

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 19 (AP)—Figures before the Public Service Commission today regarding additional annual income Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Co.'s needs for a reasonable return ranged from $174,600 to $765,000.

Accountant George R. Heath of the PSC staff read a $420,617 figure into the record today before prolonged and intermittent hearings on a C. and A. petition for higher rates were recessed again until June 4.

Heath's figure envisioned a 6¼ per cent return on the company's investment. C. and A. has contended it needs $765,000 more a year to assure a 6.52 per cent rate of return.

Lower Estimate

Consulting Engineer Harold J. Snyder of Keyser testified earlier an additional $174,600 would provide a 6 per cent return, and that $193,300 more in annual revenue would mean a 6¼ per cent return.

The proposed new C. and A. rate scale has been in effect for several months, under bond and subject to refund, in the nine central and eastern counties in which the utility has approximately 16,000 customers.

The June 4 hearing will be devoted largely to company cross-examination of Snyder, only witness for the protesting Intercommunity League of Central West Virginia; Heath, and PSC Engineer R. H. Lussky.

Heath's computations were based partly on a contention that C. and A. could, and should, have met natural gas demands on it with locally purchased supplies in the calendar 1954 test period on which the rate case is based.

He thus repriced to a 33.¼-cent cost of locally purchased gas, southwest supplies obtained by C. and A. from Atlantic Seaboard Corp. for a cost of service outlay of about 67 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. That adjustment amounted to about $46,500.

Paid Too Much

Contrary to Snyder's approach, the PSC staff exhibit made no adjustment in connection with a 1951 purchase by C. and A., for four million dollars, of a production field near Terra Alta in Preston County.

Snyder had called the purchase price "too high." He testified that gas formerly purchased from the field for 20 cents per 1,000 cubic feet now is costing C. and A. more than 38 cents, and he adjusted his cost of service computation to the 20-cent figure.

Snyder also had taken the position that C. and A. could meet demands on it with locally purchased gas, but adjusted the price paid Atlantic Seaboard to a 27-cent figure.

Like the company, the PSC staff apportioned the C. and A. cost of service for West Virginia customers on the basis of the utility's over-all production, transmission and distribution facilities.

Man Cleared In Murder

BOSTON, April 19 (AP)—A 27-year-old South Boston man questioned in the slaying of Robert H. Himmler, 34, of Cumberland, Md. was cleared today of any implication in the shooting of the radar engineer.

Himmler's body was found last January in a Georgetown Cemetery, about 35 miles north of Boston.

Police said that car had been used by the slayer in the $60 holdup of Daniel O'Meara, a Dorchester gasoline station owner.

O'Meara viewed the questioned man in the police lineup today and said he was not the one who held him up. The man was held, however, on a non-support charge.

Tydings On Trip Through Arundel Co.

[By The Associated Press]

The plea for support from the two major candidates for Democratic nomination to the U. S. Senate was made last night on two widely separated fronts.

Former U. S. Sen. Millard E. Tydings campaigned in Anne Arundel County. Opponent George Mahoney flew into Cumberland from the Eastern Shore for a rally, in which he called for party unity.

Tydings is due to carry on his campaign in the Baltimore area today. Mahoney is scheduled to return by plane to Easton and a visit in that Eastern Shore area.

A rally at Churchton was told that nomination of William B. Prendergast as the Republican congressional candidate from the 5th District would be like electing "a Wayne Morse from Southern Maryland."

C. Maurice Weidemeyer made the statement. Weidemeyer is campaign treasurer for retired Navy Capt. Joseph K. Taussig Jr., Prendergast's opponent. Prendergast is a former professor of government at the Naval Academy, from which Taussig was graduated.

Weidemeyer said Prendergast switched from the Democrat to Republican party in 1952 when President Truman was completing his term of office.

Give Endorsement At Local Rally

Spokesmen for segments of organized labor last night voiced their support of George P. Mahoney for the United States Senate at a Mahoney for Senate rally in the Eagles Home.

John Kreitzburg, chairman of the political action committee of the Textile Workers Union, and Charles F. Davis, secretary of Local 1874, Textile Workers of America, spoke in behalf of Mahoney's campaign and urged his nomination and election.

Both men said they had attended a combined meeting of CIO and AFL leaders in Baltimore recently, where their political committee interviewed all the candidates for US Senate from Maryland, and checked their records.

Davis said, "there can be no question that labor must support and help elect Mahoney."

Kreitzburg declared, "Mahoney is interested in all the people and especially understands the problems of laboring and working people and the small business man and farmer."

Both men, presented to an audience of over 200 party workers and interested Democrats by Thomas B. Finan, County Democratic Committee chairman, pledged their support and said labor is being urged to vote and work for Mahoney.

After coming here by plane last evening from Kent County, Mahoney addressed the audience as a "candidate who is campaigning not in name only as a Democrat, but a Democrat proud of the record of our party."

Cites 'Political Cold War'

He declared, "for some time now, we Democrats have been losing a propaganda battle . . . a sort of cold war . . . to the Republicans.

"These Republicans have cried so loudly and so long about these terrible, socialistic Democratic programs and policies that many Democrats have acted as if being a real, honest-to-goodness Democrat was something to be ashamed of.

"But we Democrats have nothing to apologize for. If there was any truth in the wild charges the Republicans have made, how is it that after nearly four years of a Republican administration, the suggestion has never been made to repeal a single piece of major so-called New Deal legislation?

"Going farther than that," he observed, "The Republicans have even now tried to take credit for these worthwhile and beneficial programs themselves. In January 1955, the White House issued the President's economic report, explaining why a full-scale depression had not developed following the business recession and some unemployment in 1953 and '54.

Mahoney contended the President himself, in this report, went on to list such things as Social Security, public works projects, insured bank deposits, and other facets of New Deal legislation "referring to them as a "fiscal system,' but the people of the country, a few years ago, knew these beneficial social reforms as the New Deal."

No Special Interests

The candidate told his audience that he wants to serve in the US Senate as a representative of all the people and not of any special interests. He said he wants to protect the social gains of the "little people." He said he wants to do something to help small business and the small farmer, and that he believes it is wrong in this country to foster legislative and administrative programs that give the major benefits to some 25 or fewer large corporations.

He spoke for lower taxes for the working man, a new look at shorter hours and shorter work-week plans already being talked about.

Mahoney told his audience he has no quarrel with his opponents in the campaign but is interested in getting Maryland back in the Democratic column where it belongs.

Finan introduced the members of the State Central Committee present and a number of other
